Wintery Omen

The first snow of the season pelts down upon two passers-by Tuesday afternoon on Main Street. The early snow and slush gave department of public works crews some advance practice for the winter season to come, sending sanders to the streets between 4 and 8 p.m. to patrol hills and intersections. Andover police report a number of minor fender-bender accidents due to slippery conditions, but no serious personal injuries

Selectmen To Set Policy On Public Document Issue

By Susan K. O'Neill

The subject, once again, was access to public documents; the participants, once again, a town board and members of the League of Women Voters.

At Monday night's Board of Selectmen meeting, however, the discussion that had begun on an adversarial note ended positively, with the board's pledge to institute a policy that would consider the withholding of requested documents to be "an extraordinary action."

Monday's discussion was sparked by a letter to Town Manager Kenneth Mahony and the board from Town Cousnel Alfred Daniels. At a meeting in October, the board had requested a clarification from Daniels on the nature of attorney/client privilege, as it relates to documents upon which a town board might base a decision.

The request was made because of a recent case in which a resident had been denied documents by Zoning Board of Appeals Chairman Wesley Whitney, who had defended his action on the grounds that he was preserving attorney/client privilege. The resident had appealed the denial to the state; subsequently, before state officials could give their opinion, the documents were released to the interested party by Town Manager Mahony.

In his letter to the board, Daniels suggested that "Any opinion (revealed in requested documents) which may incur litigation would be a private record and not open to the public."

"I have some concerns about it," said Chris Holmes, a League member who, as a citizen, had made the request that had prompted Daniels' letter. "Anything may incur litigation." From what she understood from the letter, said Holmes, the procedure Daniels would recommend for a request would be the same as it is now—a denial would require a 10-day waiting period, after which the only option would be an appeal to the state.

Selectman William Dalton advised Holmes that "Mr. Daniels' opinion is just that—an opinion." Such an opinion merely provides a framework, within which the town itself can build its own policy, he said. "He says that we have the broad ability to stop these documents from going out." Dalton added that the board preferred not to use the extent of these powers; it would prefer to champion a policy of openness.

To that end, Dalton suggested that the board construct its own policy statement on the release of documents. "We as a board are going to consider documents public," he said. "If not, there's got to be a darned good reason for it."

Dalton moved that the board consider non-release of a document "an extraordinary act" requiring the town manager to apply to the selectmen for action.

Town Manager Mahony added that certain information would still be considered exempt from release. "If somebody came in and asked for notes taken at staff meetings, for instance, that would be exempt." However, he said, he felt there would be few who would demand access to such materials. "I don't believe that the people out here requesting

Kathleen A. Griffin

Enters Tufts On Scholarship

Kathleen Ann Griffin, daughter of Leo and Nancy Griffin, 6 Sandalwood Lane, Andover, is attending Tufts University. She was one of three recent Marshalls' recipients of the annual Melville Corporation scholarship awards. Every year Melville Corporation awards 15 scholarships across the country to employee children who plan to attend college. This year, three children of Marshalls' employees received a Melville scholarship based on academic as well as SAT performance.

Griffin was also awarded an Andover Teachers Association scholarship as well as a scholarshp from the Ancient Order of Hibernians in Lawrence.

Griffin is attending the Jackson School at Tufts. She plans to pursue a degree in liberal arts with a preference towards math.

Griffin graduated with honors this past May from Andover High School in the top three percent of her class.

Harvard Professor To Lecture

Phillips Academy's Friday Forum lecture series will welcome Harvard University Professor Alan Brinkley on Friday, Nov. 21, for a lecture entitled "The 1986 Elections" at 8 p.m. in Kemper Auditorium. The public is welcome at no charge.

Brinkley has served as the Dunwalke Associate Professor of American History at Harvard since 1982. He received an A.B. in public and international affairs from Princeton University in 1971 and earned his Masters (1975) and Ph.D. (1979) in history from Harvard University. Brinkley completed his book, "Voices of Protest: Huey Long, Father Coughlin and the Great Depression" in 1983 and co-authored "American History: A Survey" and "America in the Twentieth Century." His numerous articles and reviews on topics related to New Deal Liberalism and the depression have been published in "The Atlantic Monthly," "The Boston Globe," "The New York Times" and "The New Republic."

Friday Forum, sponsored by the Phillips Academy history department, bring prominent journalists, scholars and diplomats to campus throughout the year.

Trumbore Receives Art Award

Jane Trumbore of Bethlehem, Penn., formerly of Andover, recently received first place for her Monhegan Island, Maine watercolor in a juried show of 45 other exhbitors. Bethlehem's Fine Arts Commission presents this show of valley painters through November 24 at its city center rotunda.

A recent watercolor of Trumbore's, Pink Floral, is also being shown. Last fall she received third prize at Moravian College for a watrcolor and this spring, a second prize at Bethlehem's sidewalk annual art show. Trumbore is having a one-woman show at the rotunda in the spring of 1987.

On a foggy night, use the low beam headlight, not the bright—you'll see better.

Tourney

The second Annual Cedardale-March of Dimes Open Racquet Tournament will take place at the Cedardale Athletic Club, 931 Boston St., Haverhill, December 5, 6 and 7. Non-members, as well as members, are invited to participate in tennis and racquetball mixed-doubles competition with categories ranging from novice to expert. Registration forms are available at Cedardale or at the March of Dimes-Merrimack Valley Division, 89 North Main St., Andover.

A dance will be held for all participants on Saturday evening, Dec. 6. Tennis, racquetball, dancing afford an opportunity to experience first hand the Cedardale facility and a chance to assist the March of Dimes in its mission.

To Explain Development Process

Confused about the development process, zoning variances and the Comprehensive Permit?

Andover's Community Development department will attempt to clarify these and other land-specific processes on Wednesday, Nov. 19, at 7:30 p.m. in the West Elementary School Auditorium, located off Beacon Street. Andover residents are encouraged to attend and to bring their questions.

"Lately, at our public hearings, we've noticed that there seems to be a lot of confusion about the subdivision process, and a lot of misinformation about Comprehensive Permits," explains Principal Planner Nancy Jeton. "With this meeting, we hope to demystify these processes for the public."

The informational meeting will feature members of the four branches of Community Development—the Conservation Department, the Board of Health, Building and Zoning, and Planning—and will be chaired by Planning Board Chairman Michael Houghton. After a discussion of each branch's role in such processes as the development of subdivisions, the obtaining of special permits and variances from the Zoning Board of Appeals, and the Comprehensive Permit process, panel members will entertain questions from the audience.

The information discussed will be general, says Jeton, and will not treat upon specific projects now under development in Andover.

Selectmen Approve New Stop Light

Monday night, the Board of Selectmen voted to approve the placement of a stop light at the intersection of Clark and Dascomb roads.

The board granted Bay State Gas Company permission to excavate for new gas services at 5 Arrowood Lane, 12 Bartlet St. and Pearson Street (for service to the Memorial Hall Library). Also granted, post factum, was permission to excavate at 4 Hunters Ridge for emergency repairs.

Selectmen also granted Air Limo Services, Inc., of Westford, a license to carry passengers over Routes 495 and 93.

The American Cancer Society, Tewksbury, was granted a one-day beer and wine license for Nov. 16, to be used at the Phillips Academy cage.

Finally, the board granted Justins Restaurant a change of manager. The new manager will be Alphons J. Castagno of Belmont.

Parents' Workshop Wednesday

The second of the 766 Parents' Workshops will be held Wednesday, Nov. 19, at 7:30 p.m. in the School Administration Building. The workshop series, entitled Parents and 766: A Route to Effective Advocacy for your Child, are sponsored by the Andover schools and the Parents Advisory Council. Pat Pakos, an experienced leader and child advocate, will lead the workshop on understanding your child and the evaluation process. For information, contact the pupil personnel office. All parents are welcome.

A meeting to describe and discuss the 766 Annual Plan will be held Monday, Nov. 17, at 1 p.m. in the pupil personnel office.

Chapter I Parents To Meet

A meeting will be held on Wednesday, Nov. 19, at 7:30 p.m. in the School Committee Conference Room, second floor, School Administration Building, Whittier Street, for the parents of elementary students in the Chapter I program.

A videotape of Andover's Integrated Reading System, AIRS, the language arts program used in Andover public schools, will be shown. Parents will have an opportunity to meet with Chapter I instructors.

AFS Banquet Friday

The American Field Service Club of Andover will hold its annual International Banquet on Friday, Nov. 14, at 6:30 p.m. at Christ Church Parish Hall, Central Street, Andover. A foreign food buffet will be provided by the members of the adult chapter while the Andover High School club members will supply desserts.

Following the buffet, slides and talks will be given by Andover's "summer abroad" students. Foreign exchange students, Ilana Zucchini from Italy and Miho Shinei from Japan, will make presentations.

For more information, call Anne Wiehe, club president.

Birthdays Celebrated; Engagement Announced

Backstreet Restaurant was the place of a gala celebration on the evening of Sunday, Oct. 26. Paula Leed of Royal Jewelers and Richard Aron of Richard Aron Associates celebrated her 30th and his 40th birthdays in a black-tie affair.

Illusionist Harry Levine had the 100 guests in awe with his slight of hand while the nationally famous comedian Lenny Clarke kept everyone in laughter.

Champagne flowed and chef John Booth prepared epicurean delights.

As guests danced to the music of Back to Back, Richard announced his engagement to Paula. A wedding date has not been set.

The party was hosted by Pauls's brother and mother, Steven and Sel Leed.

About four to six times each year, rideable surfing waves break in Matanchen Bay, Mexico, which makes surf rides of up to 5,700 feet possible.

LWV Topics: Abused Women; Emergency Services

The month of May was named after Maia, the goddess of growth of plants.

Emergency Medical Services Available in Andover and Regional Services Available to Abused Women are two separate local studies the League of Women Voters of Andover will begin next week. Their first meetings will feature an Andover Fire Department officer and the Women's Resource Center director, respectively. Anyone interested is invited to join LWV members in either study at its first meeting.

The study of emergency medical services available in Andover will meet on Monday, Nov. 17, from 7 p.m. to 9 p.m. in the home of Kathy Walsh, chairman of the study unit, 2 Snowberry Road, off Old County Road.

Lt. Richard Hartman of the Andover Fire Department will describe what emergency medical services are available now.

"The Andvoer Fire Department does a wonderful job," noted Mrs. Walsh. "What we are studying is whether Andvoer also needs a more advanced, paramedic system like that in Lowell. This study will have four meetings, November to February. We welcome interested people."

The study of regional services available to abused women will meet Thursday, Nov. 20, at 7:30 p.m. at the home of its chairman, Jan Burkholder, 1 Stafford Lane, off Canterbury Street near the Andover Country Club. Carol Abbott, director of the Women's Resource Center (for Greater Lawrence and Haverhill) will be the speaker. Burkholder said the study will later include visits to the Women's Resource Center, Mental Health Center, Family Services Center and others.

The Andover Committee of the Appalachian Mountain Club will conduct a guided walk through Baker's Meadow in Andover on Sunday, Nov. 16. The 66-acre reservation includes a pond, marshland, meadow and woods and provides an easy, but scenic, outing the whole family can enjoy. This walk is free and open to the public, as all of the local committee's hikes are. Learn about this portion of Andover's system of reservations with an experienced guide. Walkers will meet at the north entrance off Reservation Road at 1:30 p.m. The walk will be taken at a leisurely pace and should last about two hours.

Newspapers, Magazines Really Add Up

By Cynthia Hollenbeck

"This weighs a ton!" I exaggerate as I shuttle from kitchen to curbside early every other Monday with a two-week accumulation of recyclable paper neatly layered in double paper grocery bags. I always take out at least three full bundles and, if our bathroom scale is to be believed, each weighs between 20 and 25 pounds. "A ton" may be an overestimation of my family's bi-weekly offering to the town's recycling program, but 1/30th of a ton for just one of approximately 9,000 Andover households is still considerable.

To be sure, not every household in town takes in 3 daily, 6 weekly and 12 monthly publications, in addition to (I barely exaggerate on this one) 100 catalogs a month, but then eeryone who eeceives less paper has less trash in the form of paper to weed out. The worry of us watchdogs in Andover Recylcing, Inc. is not those families who aren't meeting some monthly quota of junk mail, but rather those whose recyclable paper winds up in a trash bag because "it's too much trouble to recycle," "it really doesn't make any kind of differnnce" or, even more to our dismay, they simply don't know that Andover has a convenient and reliable curbside paper pickup every other week on trash collection day.

Greg Graham, our recycling contractor who usually drives the packer truck that collects the paper, reports that well over one-third and may-be even close to two-thirds of the town's householders recycle pretty regularly. That is impressive participation. It's hard to be satisfied with just good participation, however, when tipping fees at the incineration plant where Andover's refuse goes are more than $40 a ton. It's hard to be satisfied when the town could be saved over $3,000 more per month than the paper and glass recycling program operated by Andover Recylcing, Inc. is already saving.

The September 1986 paper tonnage figure, the highest yet recorded, was 131. Multiply that by a $40 per ton tipping fee and the result is a real $5,-240 savings. it would be possible for townspeople to control Andover's trash disposal charges by that much and more every month. Separating and putting out paper apart from trash that has to be incinerated involves little effort for most people. It has become second nature to many. Remembering which week is recycling week may be the hardest part of recycling, but , fortunately, a recycling calendar is available in the town clerks' office for those householders who didn't receive one in the mail last May. Andover Recycling, Inc. volunteers are eager to answer recycling questions and help with problems. Every 5, 10, 20, 100 or more pounds that any one household can rescue from the trash and contribute to the recycling tonnage can add up to a substantial savings for Andover.

Blood Bank Accredited

The Bon Secours Hospital Blood Bank in Methuen has been granted renewal of accreditation by The American Association of Blood Banks (AABB), according to William L. Lane, president/chief executive officer. Following an intensive on-site inspection, representatives of the association established that the level of medical, technical and administrative performance within the facility meets or exceeds the rigorous standards set by the AABB. By successfully meeting those requirements, Bon Secours Hospital's Blood Bank joins more than 2,200 similar facilities across the United States and abroad that have earned the accreditation rating and recognition.

Robert J. Cross, M.D., director of laboratories at Bon Secours, explained, "The AABB's inspection and accreditation procedures are voluntary. It is not legally necessary for a blood bank or transfusion service to be accredited, but like many others, our facility has sought accreditation because it represents a level of professional and medical expertise that meets and exceeds government regulations. The primary goal of the program is to assist facilities like ours to achieve excellence and thus provide higher quality blood, blood components and other services to patients."

The Standards for Blood Banks and Transfusion Services are written by a panel of experts in the field, composing the AABB Committee on Standards. Not only do these standards set the level of professional proficiency for blood banks and transfusion services in the United States, but they provide the basis of practice for similar facilities around the world.

On Stage at South

South School third graders took to the stage on Oct. 31 to display their talents to fellow students and parents in a variety show. Photos, clockwise from upper right: Shannon Lee demonstrates that even witches can dance; Eddie Stewart tickles the ivories; A pair of "little guys," Jonathan Germain and Bill Ryan, tell their audience about a crazy, mixed-up day; Sandwiched between fellow third-grade teachers Chris Maynard and Evelyn Wrobel, Chris Stanvick watches her students' production with a director's eagle eye; Geoffrey Winn lends his talents to the orchestra.

Business Club Elects

Recently the Andover High School Business Club elected Ron Morgese, president; Also elected were James Tacy, vice president; James Flowers, treasurer; Wanda Witkowski, secretary.

A public relations committee of six students was elected: Brad Wright, chairman, and Robert Beanland, Julia Carpenter, Debbie Jannetti, Janice Sylvanowitz and Bryan Derryberry.

Under the direction of its new advisor, Bill Hart, the club plans to make students more aware of today's lucrative business market. Approximately 60 members will gain on-hand experience of business activities by many fundraisers. Guest speakers from local businesses will discuss many important areas. Money raised by the club will help to support Distributive Education Clubs of America (DECA) and will be used to reward club members who work at making all of the club's ventures a success. The club raised more than $150 at a bake sale in front of Barcelos Market in Andover several weeks go and thanks the community for its support. Several fundraising activities are being planned and will be announced soon.

The first woman in America to own and edit a newspaper was Sarah Porter Hillhouse, in 1802. Her paper was Georgia's The Washington Gazette.

Community ASK Team In Session

Andover High School hosted the first community ASK team meeting on substance use and abuse of the year. The ASK team is comprised of Andover citizens, counselors, clergy members, students and other civice organizations. This committe meets once a month to discuss problems, solutions and awareness of the community. Brenda O'Brien, coordinator of Andover schools' health program, is chairperson and Peggy Zampetti is co-chairperson.

Rufus Chaffee from the Psychological Center of Lawrence introduced "The Prevention Netowrk," which "promotes positive attitudes, behaviors and policies regarding the use of alcohol and drugs..." The team brainstormed ideas of how networking could be used as a positive, effective influence in the community.

Future goals and priorities of the ASK team is communication with the community, involving parents, counselors, schools, students and churches. Meetings are held every third Wednesday of the month in the school committee room. Any interested or civic group is welcome and encouraged to attend. Mrs. O'Brien can be reached at the administration office of the Andover schools.

This photo was taken to announce and advertise the fact that I, the subject of the photo, am exhibiting at my home this month the art that I have produced during the past four years. This time has been both exhilerating and frightening. Making art has become hopelessly and hopefully entwined into one continuous whole. It is this state of carving a path to the deep and being dragged helplessly by the nose and its identity with all mythical journeys that I wish to present.

The photograph was taken at Phillips Academy pool by a friend of mine named Richard who stood outside an underwater observation window. I was wearing formal social attire, a wool suit, which resulted in my being constantly forced back to the surface while I had anticipated freely moving about the pool's bottom. After a short while of fighting this upward buoying thrust I became exhausted and signaled to Richard that the session was over. "I haven't got what I need yet" he protested. His encouragement prompted me to return twice more to the pool waters.

I show to attain the energy and means to continue.

I exhibit in Andover to solicit from the people of this town the encouragement that I received from Richard. I do not think of this as any type of obligation rather I ask in the spirit of negotiating a contract. If my deep-diving aspirations are fulfilled in the future, then the town and its people will benefit. And if I never manage to go beyond my present bobbing in slightly shrunken clothing, well, even that can be instructional to an acute observer. Anyway, the unbroken water of an unused pool is beautifully serene, but awfully dull.

Andover Residents Graduate

Boston University awarded academic degrees to 770 students this fall. Among the graduates were six Andover residents.

Receiving degrees were Kathleen Adams, MSW in Social Work; James M. Gravel, MBA in Public Management; Daniel B. McDuffie V, BA in English; Paul M. Newton, BS in Cardio-Pulmonary Technician; Scott M. Sherman, MS in Management Information Systems; Gail A. Williams, MBA in Business Administration and Management.

Boston University is the fourth largest independent university in the United States with an enrollment of more than 27,000 students in its 16 schools and colleges.

Though archery was a hunting skill before 20,000 B.C., it did not become an organized sport until about 300 A.D.

BABY TALK

by Jack Resnick

The birth of a baby is an occasion that brings relatives and friends flocking, to congratulate the parents and to see the baby. This can be pure pleasure - relaxing and rejuvenating, but to most of us, however, it can be very exhausting. A few old friends for short periods of time is very effective. Longer periods of visiting can be somewhat tense leaving the new mother and father quite fatigued and tense. A new mother should set strict limits for visitors right from the start, see how it goes, and then increase the number very gradually.

Let the staff at TINY TOTLAND assist and guide you through your purchase of baby furniture. Leading brand names by Simmons, Childcraft, Bassett & Morigeaux. Tel. 1-603-623-6171. Open 9-5:30. Students To Participate In Leadership Training

On Tuesday, Nov. 25, 110 student leaders from middle and junior high schools from the Greater Lawrence area will gather at the Frost School in Lawrence to participate in an all-day leadership training program organized through the collaborative efforts of 11 public schools. Ten students from each school will attend.

After a keynote address by Sen. Patricia McGovern and welcoming remarks from Lawrence Superintendent Eugene Thayer, the students will spend the day in "hands on" workshops learning and practicing leadership skills. In these workships, which will be led by principals, teachers and guidance counselors from the 11 schools, students will learn and sharpen their leadership techniques in goal setting, effective communication, problem solving, organizing and leading groups and other areas of leadership.

Students will apply these skills in projects which they develop and carry out in their own schools using the student leadership project theme of "Making Something Better." In workshops to be held in December and April, the students will share the results of their projects and evaluate the success of their efforts. In addition, a group project which addresses a common concern to all the schools will be developed by the students to "make something better" for the community as a whole.

The student leadership project was initiated by William Hart, principal of West Junior High School, Andover, and Richard Neal, principal of Middle School, North Andover, last spring with a one-day workshop in Andover.

Building on the success and interest of that workshop, the project was expanded this year into a four-day project spread out through the school year, allowing students to apply the leadership skills in their own projects and to learn from each other in the process.

Participating schools are Doherty Junior High School, Richard McGrail, principal, and West Junior High School, William Hart, principal, Andover; Bruce School, Joseh Twomey, principal; Frost School, John Benjamin, principal; Leonard School, Maria Narganes, principal; Kane School, Juan Rodriques, principal; Oliver School, Norah McCarthy, princpal; Arlington School, William Carey, principal, Lawrence; Tenney Middle School, James Smith, principal, and East Middle School, Donald Timony, principal, Methuen; Middle School, Richard Neal, principal, North Andover; The Greater Lawrence Educational Collaborative, James McConaughy, coordinator.

Exam

An entrance examination will be given at Our Lady of Nazareth Academy, 14 Winship Drive, Wakefield, at 7:45 a.m. on November 15. Any student interested in enrolling as a freshman in the fall of 1987 is required to take this eamination. Preregistration is requested, but not required.

Education Seminar Tonight

Ruby Easton, head guidance counselor, will speak on "Human Relations and Guidance in the Andover Schools" on Thursday, Nov. 13, at 7:30 p.m. in the third public seminar on Andover education presented by the League of Women Voters of Andover. The meeting will be held at Doherty Junior High School in the open classrooms over the Media Center.

"We encourage parents of junior high and elementary children to come, as well as high school parents," said Barbara Worcester, LWV education chairman. "This is an opportunity to learn more about our school guidance counseling, personal counseling and the college and vocational guidance that helps prepare our students for life after Andover High."

The heaviest sportsman of all time was the wrestler William J. Cobb of Macon, Georgia, who in 1962 was billed as the 802-pound Happy Humphrey.

A Successful Cultural Exchange

This article was written by Bridget Guerrera and Amie Wilmer, eighth graders at Doherty Junior High School in Andover. Bridget Guerrera is the daughter of Joseph and Ann Guerrera, 8 Blueberry Hill Road. Amie is the daughter of Henry and Susan Wilmer, 195 Main St.

On Friday, Oct. 31, at Doherty Junior High School in Andover, much more was learned than your typical science, social tudies, English and mathematics. Students learned of the dreams and fears, successes and failures of recent young immigrants to the United States.

Approximately 25 students from Lawrence High School came to Doherty to talk about their ambitions and the problems they face as recent immigrants. They were from Vietnam, Puerto Rico, the Dominican Republic, Cambodia, Equador and Mexico.

In order to give an overview of the issue, we decided to focus upon the immigration experiences of four students with whom we spoke. Leonarda is a senior at the high school who immigrated to the United States four years ago from the Dominican Republic. She came by boat with her mother, father, three sisters and six brothers. Whe she arrived, Leonarda could not speak English fluently, so she found her classes at the high school to be almost impossible. But, because her main objective in coming to the United States was a higher education than could be achieved in the Dominican Republic, she attended to her studies with diligence. As our dicussion progressed, we became more aware of her desire to be a success in her community. It was apparent to us that Leonarda was an extremely hard worker.

When asked about the bilingual education system that exists in this area, Leonarda replied with mixed opinions. She feels that it would be beneficial to those who are not fluent, but she also thought that it had its disadvantages. If an immigrant is taught the same curriculum as the American student in a native language, Leonarda felt that the immigrant would get along fine. However after graduation, the student would be left with insufficient knowledge of the English language and a job would be difficult to obtain.

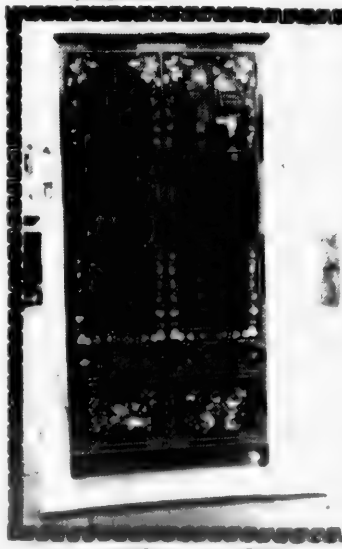

Omar is a junior at Lawrence High School and emigrated from Puerto Rico two years ago. He stressed that the two main objectives in migrating to the United States were education and opportunity. Throughout our discussion, one main word was highlighted: opportunity. This young man had it easy compared to the other immigrants (that isn't sayingmuch). He was free to leave and had taken English courses while still in Puerto Rico. Although he knew much of the language, Omar still found it difficult to manage in an American school. Some of the obvious reasons for this are cultural changes, adapting to the new area and environment and, of course, the social situation and the problems faced in attempting to make friends in an entirely different language and country. Omar has been working very hard and was offered a scholarship to the Phillips Academy summer school program, which he accepted.

For two Vietnamese students, the word "opportuity" was coupled with the word "freedom." They left Vietnam illegally and fled to concentration camps in the Phillipines and Thailand, then continued on to the United States. One child's father is in a jail in Vietnam as a prisoner of war; his mother is dead. We feel that these two immigrants had it the worst; both had to learn the language when they arrived, each had to come to the United States all alone and emotional frustration related to the loss of his parents had to be faced by one.

For most of us attending Doherty Junior High School, a general concensus materialized. We take for granted the liberty and freedom we possess while living in a democratic community. These students never knew freedom like we in America until they witnessed it through their own eyes.

Western Roundup

By Carrie Lumley

The first term at West Junior High School ended with a productive week. A presentation called "Amber Lights," sponsored by Pepsi, made a strong impact on the students. Although the moview was on saying no to drinking and driving, this was not the main idea. What it's true meaning was that you should be yourself; do not do something just because "everyone else is." We hope after this more students will join our S.A.D.D. organization which is students against drinking and drugs led by Mr. Amundson and Miss Lunt.

The freshman football team walked away with a win over Methuen last Friday. The game ended with a score of 14-6. The players look forward to defeating Lowell on November 14. We hope you will show school spirit by attending this game.

West is holding a memorial service in honor of Veteran's Day with poems, a scriptual reading and choral selections about the unforgetable event where many lost their lives for our country.

Student government is holding a dance to aise funds to generate other school affairs. To make it a more exciting, fun-filled evening, a theme has been made, "Fall Havest Festivity.' It will be held November 14 and we hope to see our students come.

Andover Teacher Retires

Dr. Nora T. Harrison, 7 Rutgers Road, Andover, and York Beach, Maine, has retired as of August 21 from teaching in the Andover Public Schools system.

At the start of her 24-year-career in education, she began teaching in the first grade in a Haverhill public school. Harrison joined the Pike School, Andover faculty as teacher, head of the Middle School.

For the last 20 years she has taught in the Andover Junior High School English department, including five years as English department head.

Harrison was awarded an NDEA Title III grant in 1975 for innovative teaching, initiating the ECHO program for gifted and talented students. Local funding maintained the program until 1983.

Harrison successfully defended her dissertation and was awarded a doctoral degree at Boston University in October 1985.

She has completed her third year of membership in the MTA Communications Committee, a group which votes on MTA funding of association projects which enhance teacher-community relationships in communities across the state.

Harrison is the wife of Franklyn G. Harrison, Sr., U.S. Army, Retired. They have two married sons, Franklyn Jr., personnel director for Hoosier Energy, an electric company, and Barry, a Centerville, Indiana, high school art teach.

Future plans include traveling and gardening.

Andover Youngster Wins Award

Gretchen Mathias of Andover was named an honorable mention winner in the national "Woman's Day/Popsicle Stick Art Contest, Rupert Walters, president and chief executive officer of Popsicle Industries, Inc., announced recently.

Children under age 12 designed projects using at least six sticks from Popsicle brand products. Creativity and originality were primary judging criteria.

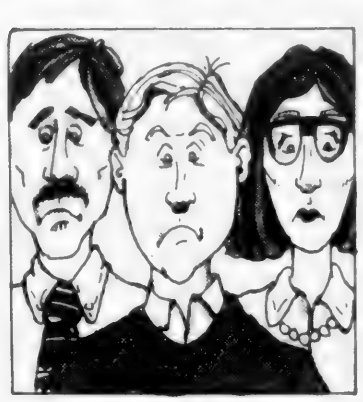

"Our sticks have inspired creativity among generations of Popsicle lovers. We wanted to foster this inventiveness by formally recognizing our nation's 'stick artists,' " Walters explained.

Gretchen will receive a coupon for a free package of Popsicle ice pops, Fudgsicle fudge pops/bars or Creamsicle cream pops/bars.

Christmas Fair Scheduled

The North Parish Unitarian Univeralist Church, Old Center, North Andover, will hold its annual Christmas Fair on Saturday, Nov. 22, from 9 a.m. to 3 p.m.

Many handmade and homemade items will be for sale: home-canned juices, pickles, fruit, vegetables, jams and jellies, pies, cakes, cookies, candy, "fireside" coffee, fruit and nut breads, rolls and muffins, crewel, quilted, candlewick and applique pillows, potholders, braided rugs, chairpads, Christmas tree ornaments, doll clothes, aprons, cards and notepaper, scarves, mittens, caps, bed socks, baby sweaters, booties, gloves and Christmas stockings, wooden folk art birds, plaques and animals, bird feeders, spice racks, card holders, dollhouse furniture, bread and cheese boards and plants and dried arrangements.

A luncheon of homemade chicken pie, ham and cheese sandwiches and dessert will be served from 11:30 a.m. to 1 p.m

There will be a silent auction for a Madam Alexander doll and a door prize of a live potted Christmas tree.

Holiday Events

The festively decorated Great Huse on Castle Hill in Ipswich will be filled with the sights, sounds and tastes of Christmas December 7-16.

The Newburyport Choral Society opens the series with a holiday concert on Sunday, Dec. 7, at 2:30 p.m. The program includes "Fantasia on Christmas Carols" by Ralph Vaughan Williams, Liszt's "Hymn to the Virgin" and excerpts from the "Midnight Mass for Christmas" by Marc Antoine Charpentier. The audience will join the 100-member chorus in singing traditional carols. Doors open at 1 p.m. for informal tours of the museum rooms and refreshments.

Later that afternoon Bruce Frankel of Panache Restuarant and the Colony will demonstrate his culinary expertise in the Great House kitchens. The first 25 registrants will participate in a lecture/demonstration from 4 p.m. to 6 p.m. All enrollees will be served a full-course dinner featuring veal rib roast with exotic mushrooms, seafood ravioli and chocolate amaretto parfait from 6 p.m. to 9 p.m. in the dining room.

DCS Theatre Trips

The DCS is sponsoring trips to two of this year's most outstanding musical productions. The price includes bus transportation and performance ticket.

First, Gilbert and Sullivan's masterpiece, "The Mikado," is playing at the Colonial Theatre Wednesday evening, Dec. 17. This performance is being offered at a fantastic rate.

Next, Boston's favorite holiday tradition, "The Nutcracker," is being performed by the Boston Ballet the afternoon of Monday, Dec. 29.

Contact the Department of Community Services for more information. Space is limited.

Craft Fest

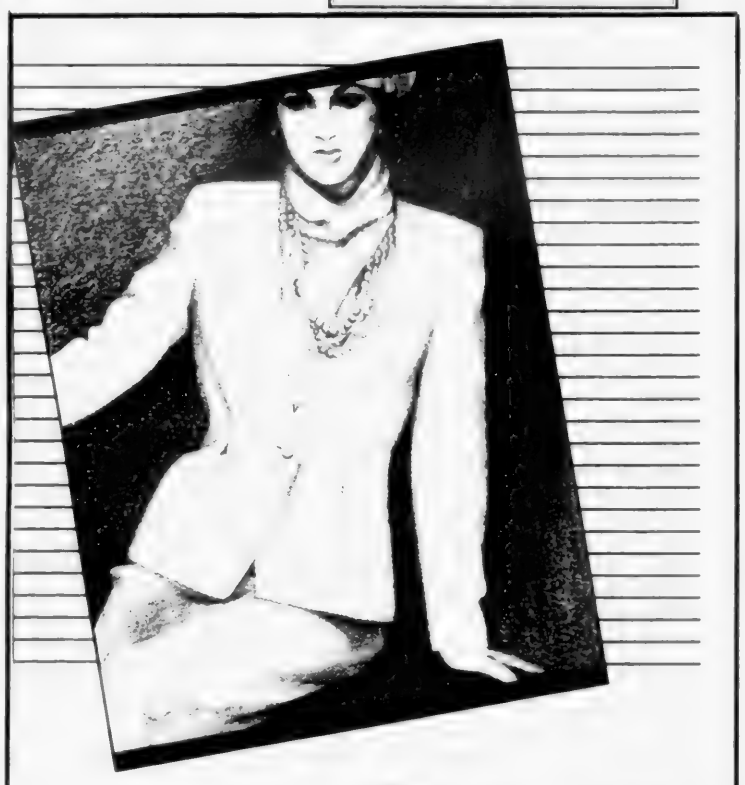

St. Joseph Boosters Association will sponsor its annual Craft Festival on Saturday, Nov. 15, from 10 a.m. to 5 p.m. in Fr. Gillis Hall, 173 Albion St., Wakefield.

Student Smoking Policy Revised

While the School Committee considers a smoking policy for all the Andover schools, the high school student/faculty/administrative government has revised the high school smoking regulations.

The House Government at Andover High School has developed a policy, which will minimize the effect of smoking on non-smoking students. The major components of the newly revised policy are:

1. Students must have parent or guardian permission to use a designated smoking area.
2. Students using this smoking area must participate in a smoking cessation seminar.
3. The smoking area will only be used by those students who have permission to smoke. Students found smoking elsewhere in the building will be dealt with through stringent discipline measures.

Principal Mary Jennings is pleased with this revision of past policy. She says, "Many schools in the Merrimack Valley have recently developed new smoking policies. Usually this involved staff and administration telling the students what the new rules would be. I'm pleased that our faculty worked together with the students to come up with a workable policy. This process increases the likelihood that the policy will be understood and adhered to."

Andover High School requires all students to study a health unit where the dangers of smoking are outlined. The counseling department offers small group courses for students who choose to quit smoking and the school yearly participates in November's "Great American Smoke-Out."

"Much attention is being paid to those few students who continue to smoke cigagaretes. Perhaps with parent support, they will seek help to quit this habit. School rules and regultions alone cannot accomplish this," says Jennings.

Some students at Andover High School are beginning to form a new club, similar to the popular S.A.D.D. program, that would lend peer support to students who want to quit smoking.

How did the White House get its name? In 1814 a fire blackened the walls. The smoke-stained walls were painted white, giving rise to the title.

Brazelton Lecture Tuesday

Some tickets are still available for an informative lecture-discussion by internationally renowned pediatrician T. Berry Brazelton, M.D., on Tuesday, Nov. 18, at 7:30 p.m. at West Junior High School, Andover. The program, "Working and Caring: Managing the Ups and Downs of Early Childhood," will explore the major issues confronting working parents.

This program is made possible by the Lawrence General Hospital Foundation and the Child Care Circuit, working in cooperation with the sponsors of this lecture, the Center for Parenting Studies at Wheelock College, the child development unit at Children's Hospital and the Junior League of Boston.

Brazelton is a pioneer in the study and teaching of infant and child development at Harvard Medical School and Children's Hospital in Boston. He is featured on the cable television series "What Every Baby Knows" and is the author of six books on parenting and child development.

For more information, call the Lawrence General Hospital education department.

Oil filters did not become an obligatory item on most passenger cars until the late 1950s.

Alternative Energy Forms Topic For Symposium

The adult education committee of the Unitarian Universalist Church of Andover will host a panel discussion on energy options at 7:30 p.m. at 6 Locke St., downtown Andover.

Dr. Curtis Siller, senior scientist of the technical staff at AT&T Bell Labs in North Andover will deliver the welcoming remarks and act as moderator.

Richard Gardner, vice president of Stone and Webster Engineering Corp. in Boston will discuss the nuclear and fossil fuel approach. He is a graduate of Annapolis with many years experience in nuclear and non-nuclear power. Gardner will present a factual look at the Chernobyl incident and the status of Three Mile Island together with the safety and built-in safeguards of the typical newer nuclear plants such as Seabrook and Pilgrim.

Page Duffy, an Andover resident and markting specialist with Mobil Solar Energy Corp. in Waltham, will explain the present state of the art in this form of energy, as well as important implications for the future.

State Representative Sue Tucker, an active member of the state's energy committee, with a strong commitment to the develpment of clean and renewable energy sources, will address the complexities of the financial aspects of varius alternatives.

This program is offered free of charge as a community service. Questions are encouraged.

Andover Author Speaker For Book Week Event

Jeffrey Kelly

"Reach for a Book," the theme for this year's Children's Book Week (Nov. 16-22) will be celebrated at Memorial Hall Library with the appearance of local resident and children's book author Jeffrey Kelly on Sunday, Nov. 16, at 2:30 p.m.

A former teacher in the Andover schools, Kelly's first book was an adventure story for 8-12 year olds entitled "Tramp Steamer and the Silver Bullet," which appeared in 1984. Houghton Mifflin will publish his second book for this age level in April and a third book is "in the works." Kelly has been serving as writer-in-residence fin the Danvers Public Schools, freelances for the "Boston Globe" and "Boston Magazine" and teaches a course at the Cambridge Center for Adult Education.

Kelly will explain the process of bookmaking, demonstrating with drafts, proofs and galleys of his own work. He will preview his new book and spin some tales, which will surely encourage everyone to "Reach for a Book."

Due to the construction of the library addition and the renovation of the hall, this program will be held in the Children's Room and be the only children's program sponsored by the Friends of the Library this fall.

Concert

The Putnam Court Musicians will present a concert at the Danvers Senior Center, 12 Sylvan St., Danvers, on Sunday, Nov. 30, at 2 p.m. The program is supported in part by the Massachusetts Art Lottery, as administered by the Danvers Arts Council.

Members of the group are flutist Kristin Webb, soprano Mary Sanders, harpsichordist Jeremy Adams and guitarist Russell Southcott.

Watch the Wine!

The Brewster sisters, Abby (Heather Whyte) and Martha (Patricia Squibb), celebrate a tender moment with nephew Mortimer (Ed Pascucci) and his fiancee, Elaine (Jennifer Wilson), in this scene from the Andover High School production of "Arsenic and Old Lace." The famous Joseph Keselring play about the peaceful, but legally complicated, effects of the sisters' elderberry wine will be presented this Friday and Saturday nights at the Collins Center. Curtain time is 7:30 p.m.; admission will be available at the door.

Gregory Norbet Concert Saturday At Christ Church

Gregory Norbet, internationally known composer, lyricist and vocalist for the recordings and music published by the monks of Weston Priory in Vermont will give a concert at 8 p.m. this Saturday at Christ Church. His music, written while he was a Benedictine monk for 21 years at Weston Priory, is used in churches throughout the world for liturgical celebrations as well as individual listening and programs of feligious education and spirituality.

Norbet continues to compose and works with Esperanca, an international health organization ministering to Third World peoples. Esperanca works in remote areas of the Central Amazon regior of Brazil, in Bolivia and Africa, providing health care and health education.

Saturday's concert will benefit Esperanca. Through music and narrative, Norbet will bring the message of Esperanca to the audience. There is no admission charge; a collection will be taken for the work of the health organization. The community is welcome to join the members of Christ Church.

Norbet will also preach at the 9 a.m. and 11:15 a.m services on Sunday at Christ Church.

The Statue of Liberty n New York Harbor is one of the largest statues ever made. It stands 305 feet tall.

Open House

Edward F. Kittredge, The Hunt Hospital administrator, announced that The Hunt will host an Open House of its renovated maternity unit, "Precious Moments," on Sunday, Nov. 23, from 1 p.m. to 4 p.m.

The Hunt's maternity unit has experienced a 14.9 percent increase in live births during July, August and September, compared to the same period last year.

Because of the increased demand on The Hunt's current 10 maternity beds, renovations include a new labor delivery room and four new private rooms with private showers. Long-range goals include providing more private rooms and adding private showers.

John Ferris

Cochran Chapel Organ Celebration Weekend

There will be an organ concert by Carolyn Day Skelton with the Academy Chamber Players in Cochran Chapel on Friday, Nov. 14, at 7:30 p.m.

The program will include works of Bach, Balbastre, Frank Bridge and two organ concerti pieces by Thomas Arne and Francis Poulenc with the Academy Chamber Players performing, William Thomas conducting.

Skelton, academy organist and instructor of organ and harpsichord at Phillips Academy, holds degrees from Hastings College and the New England Conservatory of Music. She was a Fulbright scholar, completing a year of study at the Academy of Music in Vienna.

There will be a concert by the Harvard University Choir, under the direction of John Ferris, and organist Nancy Granert on Saturday, Nov. 15, at 8 p.m. Their repertoire will include a work by Ronald Perera, "The Light Here Kindled," which was commissioned and first performed last September for Harvard's 350th anniversary celebration. The Andover Faculty Brass Quintet will join in the performance of this work and a work by Heinrich Schutz. Other works will be by Brahms, Gabrieli, Gibbons, Byrd and a Bach Cantata.

Under the direction of Ferris, the choir has established itself as, in the words of Richard Dyer, "one of the most remarkable musical instruments in Boston."

Ferris is in his 29th year as Harvard University organist and choirmaster. He was responsible for introducing women as permanent members

"Crimes Of The Heart" To Be Staged At Academy

Sarah Merrill, 20 High St., Andover, is stage manager for the production of Beth Henley's "Crimes of the Heart," scheduled for November 20, 21 and 22 in George Washington Hall, Phillips Academy.

The play, Henley's first, won her a Pulitzer Prize in the 1980-81 season; she was the first woman so honored in 23 years. Performed off and on-Broadway, it presents three sisters and a cousin (female) in a small southern town: Lenny, the oldest sister, is rapidly drifting into spinsterhood; Meg, a failed nightclub singer, has returned to assist Babe, the youngest, who just shot her husband, acording to her, because she just didn't like his looks. The action is complicated by the appearance of Doc, one of Meg's former lovers, and the intervention of Barnette, a young lawyer who, like other males, finds the MacGrath sisters very attractive and Babe's defense a challenge.

In addition to Merrill, a four-year senior, members of the company include 11th graders Lee Shea of Memphis, Tenn. as Cousin Chick and Leilah Powell of Huston, Texas, as Babe; seniors Callie Hershey of Berwyn, Penna., as Lenny and Nina-Marie Gardner of Marblehead as Meg; tenth grader Joshua Gass of Briarcliff Manor, N.Y., as Barnette and Paul Hochman, teaching fellow in English as Doc. Direction is by H.H. Owen Jr. of the theatre faculty.

Seats may be reserved by calling Miss Dickie Thiras or stop at the information desk in George Washington Hall.

An Evening At The Addison

An Evening at the Addison, a program of discussions and presentations by Jock Reynolds, director, Washington Project for the Arts, Washington, D.C., and Alan Stone, artist, will be held at the Addison Gallery of American Art on the campus of Phillips Academy, Andover, on Friday, Nov. 21, at 7 p.m. Stone is one of the Washington, D.C., artists represented in the gallery's current exhibit of Ten Artists Working in New York City and Washington, D.C. which is curated in part by Reynolds. The event is open to the public free of charge.

Reynolds, an artist and arts administrator, will offer insight into contemporary art issues through a survey of the selections he made as guest curator of the Washington artists in the exhibit. Stone will discuss his own work, including the installation piece, "Still Point," which was designed for the current exhibit at the gallery. Visitors will have a chance to meet and question the speakers. Opportunities for membership to the Addison Gallery will be available.

Tickets Available For Play

Tickets are still available for the Andover Theatre Company production of "Joseph and the Amazing Technicolor Dreamcoat," to be held Friday and Saturday nights, Nov. 14, 15 and 22, and Sundays, Nov. 16 and 23, at Doherty Junior High's Memorial Auditorium.

The play is a musical drama based on the biblical story of Jacob and his sons, and was written by the author of the Broadway hit, "Cats." The Andover production stars Michael Ashe as Joseph and features a full cast of area young people. It is directed by Josie Walker, a veteran of many other ATC musicals.

Curtain time on Friday and Saturdays is 8 p.m.; Sundays, performances will begin at 3 p.m.

Tickets may be purchased in advance at the Butler's Pantry on Barnard Street, or at the Department of Community Services in the Andover Town Hall. If pre-sales allow, admission will also be available at the door.

Morning Coffees Resume

By Virginia Lopez Begg

The Andover Historical Society begins its popular morning coffee series Tuesday, Nov. 18, at 9:30 a.m. All are welcome. There is a nominal admission fee for non-members. As always, the program opens with coffee and tasty tidbits, followed by an informal look at some aspect of life in historic Andover.

The first program focuses on the holiday season and how it was celebrated. The major holidays of Thanksgiving, Christmas and New Year's will be featured.

Thanksgiving was the most important holiday of the year in pre-Civil War Massachusetts.

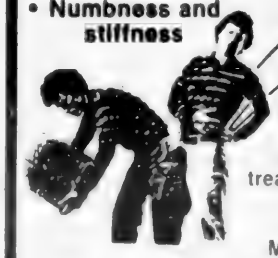

The festive season of Christmas, long frowned on in Puritan Andover, came into its own in the late 19th century.

New Year's Day was another important holiday in old Andover.

The first morning coffee will be prepared and presented by Marjorie Snell, Ruth Sherwood, Jan Henderson, Ruth Sharpe, Barbara Loomer and Bernice Haggerty.

Comedy Hit Opens Season

The Merrimack Repertory Theatre, Lowell, will open its eighth season November 14 with Larry Shue's comedy, "The Foreigner," voted the Best New American Play for 1985 by the Outer Critics Circle. The play concerns Charlie, a shy British science fiction proofreader who finds excitement, adventure and romance deep in the woods of Georgia.

Playing Charlie Baker, the "foreigner," will be Brad Bellamy, most recently seen as Algernon in "The Importance of Being Earnest" at Atlanta's Alliance Theatre. He performed for nine seasons with the Lyceum in Missouri and can be seen in Rodney Dangerfield's HBO special "It's Not Easy Being Me."

Billie Lou Watt plays Betty Meeks, owner of the Georgia fishing lodge. She was featured in the Broadway production of "Take Her, She's Mine" and has appeared in Broadway, Off-Broadway and regional theatre productions. Watt was Ellie in "Search for Tomorrow" for more than 12 years and was seen on Playhouse 90 and Studio One.

Catherine, the debutante heiress, will be played by Leslie Hicks, who was seen last season at the Merrimack as Lettie in the murder-mystery-musical "Something's Afoot." She also created the role of Della in the Off-Broadway original musical "The Gifts of the Magi."

Will Osborne will play the Rev. David Lee, a minister of question. He has appeared with Pat Paulson in "Black Comedy" and with Hugh O'Brian in "Plaza Suite" and recently toured the country as Ed in the National Company of "Torch Song Trilogy."

Charlies's friend "Froggy" will be played by Paul Dunn, a Boston actor most recently seen in the Gloucester Stage Company's production of "Henry Lumper" and who has been seen more than 900 times in "Shear Madness" at Boston's Charles Theatre.

William Perley will play Owen Musser, the county inspector. He made his Broadway debut in Tennessee Williams' "Vieux Carre" and was was seen during the summer and fall of this year as Lee in "All My Children.'

Lance Lewman will play Catherine's brother, Ellard. He was seen last summer at the North Shore Music Theatre in "Romeo and Juliet" and has appeared at Center Stage in Baltimore.

The theatre is located in Liberty Hall, part of Lowell's Memorial Auditorium complex, in the historic downtown district and is accessible for the handicapped.

Performances run through December 6 on Mondays and Wednesdays through Saturdays at 8 p.m.; Sundays at 2 p.m. and 7 p.m. and Wednesday matinees at 2 p.m. on November 19 and 26. School matinees have been scheduled at 10:30 a.m. on Wednesday, Dec. 3, and Thursday, Dec. 4. Group rates are also available. Reservations and season subscriptions are available through the box office.

Women's Group Meets At Temple

The Joint Women's Group, coordinated by Peace Chapter B'nai B'rith Women, is presenting "Keeping Romance in Your Relationships" on November 20 at 8 p.m. at Temple Emanuel, 7 Haggetts Pond Road, Andover. The program will be an evening of learning and sharing with experts in the field of family, marital and sex therapy: Dr. Leon Somers, ED.D. and Barbara Somers, M.ED., L.C.S.W.

Dr. Somers is the founder and director of The Somers Trust. He does individual, family and group therapy and conducts groups in marital and sex therapy with his wife, Barbara.

Mr. and Mrs. Richard Thomas Heislein

Heislein — Wegiel

Dianne Marie Wegiel, daughter of Henry and Mary Wegiel of Stow, and Richard Thomas Heislein, son of J. Thomas and Virginia Heislein of Wild Rose Drive, Andover, were married Aug. 31 at St. Isidore's Church, Stowe.

The Rev. Richard O'Leary, O.S.A., pastor of St. Augustine Church of Andover, officiated at the late afternoon ceremony.

Kathrine Wegiel acted as her sister's maid of honor. Bridesmaids were Ann Dougal, Jocelyn Cosgrove, Kelly Arsenault and Alicia Wegiel (sister of the bride).

The groom's brother, David Edward Heislein, served as best man. Ushers were William Corvene, Gregory Roche, Charles Sirois and Steven Rogers.

Readings at the ceremony were performed by Amy E. Heislein, sister of the groom, and by David Wegiel and Henry Wegiel, brothers of the bride.

Susan A. Heislein, sister of the groom, presided over the guest book.

Following a reception at White Cliffs in Northboro, the couple left for a wedding trip to Caneel Bay in the American Virgin Islands.

The bride, a graduate of Boston College, works as an R.N. at Massachusetts General Hospital in Boston.

The groom, a graduate of Andover High School and Northeastern University, is employed as an electrical engineer for Raytheon of West Andover.

The couple reside in Boxborough.

Mr. and Mrs. Brian P. Hardy

Hardy-Aubin

Linda J. Aubin and Brian P. Hardy were married October 4 in a ceremony at St. Brendan Church, Riverside, R.I.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride was attended by Diane Aubin Olson, matron of honor, Brigid Gallagher and Cynthia Kirkwood, bridesmaids.

James Enos was best man. John Stahl and James Wisniewski were ushers.

Following a reception at Metacomet Country Club, East Providence, R.I., the couple left for Europe.

The bride, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. David Aubin of Riverside, R.I., is a graduate of East Providence High School and Merrimack College. She is a paralegal at Choate Hall and Stewart in Boston.

Her husband, son of Mr. and Mrs. John Hardy, 1 Beech Circle, Andover, is a graduate of Andover High School and Merrimack College. He is a manager at Colloidal Materials in Andover.

They will live in Salem, N.H.

Dinner-Dance Planned To Honor Anniversary

A silver anniversary dinner-dance is being planned by parishioners of St. Robert Bellarmine of Andover-Tewksbury. Twenty-five years ago this month, the parish was established by Richard Cardinal Cushing to serve these two communities of the Merrimack Valley.

To celebrate the event, a dinner dance will be held at Windsor Mills Restaurant in Dracut on Saturday, Nov. 22. Beginning at 6:30 p.m. there will be champagne, followed by a turkey and roast beef dinner. Dancing and entertainment will be provided by Guy Rotondo and his Artists' Showcase. Rotondo has been featured on the Merv Griffin Show and the Virginia Graham Show and members of his group have musical experience ranging from the Boston Pops to the San Francisco Opera Company. All former parishioners and friends of St. Robert's are invited and may obtain tickets and information from St. Robery's Rectory, Haggetts Pond Road, Andover.

Parishioners planning this gala event include: Arleen Puccia of Andover, general chairman; Rose Babine of Andover Shirley Daley and Sally Fiore of Tewskbury, tickets; Shirley Daley of That Personal Touch, floral centerpieces; Mary Spignesi, Sharon Slavin, Cathy McClearn, Mae Deveau, Mildred Sheehan, Susan Hayes, all of Andover, and Louise Lipps of Tewksbury, co-chairpersons; Pat Vanderpot and Helen Keegan of Andoer, publicity.

Party To Benefit Poor Clare Monastery

The Annual Christmas Eggnog Benefit Party for the Poor Clare Nuns of the Monastery of St. Clare will be held November 30 at the Speare House, Pawtucket Boulevard, Lowell.

The Most Rev. Alfred C. Hughes, S.T.D., regional Bishop of the Lowell region, will attend Sunday at 7 p.m. Musical entertainment will be provided from 4 p.m. to 6 p.m. There will be music and dancing to the sound of The Angie Bergamini orchestra from 6 p.m. on.

For raffle tickets or information, contact Nancy Thompson in Lowell or the Monsastery of St. Clare.

Program On Books

"The Color Purple" will be the focus of a book discussion at the meeting of the Andover-Georgetown Branch of the American Association of University Women on Wednesday, Nov. 19, at 7:30 p.m. at the Lawrence Savings Bank, Shawsheen Square, Andover.

A sale of second-hand children's books will be held at that time to benefit the Dollars for Delegates Project.

The American Association of University Women is a national organization which promotes equity for women, education and self development over the life span and positive societal change.

Having A Ball!!

The Andona Ball, held at the Sheraton Rolling Green last Friday night, drew about 750 to raise funds for the society, which provides scholarships, camperships and assists youth sports and music groups, and libraries, among other causes. The ball was preceded by house parties held by Andona members. Around 10 p.m., these parties joined together as one group to eat, dance, and socialize. Jean Mavrikos and Christine Hayward were chairmen of the ball; Jeanne Fitzgerald and Paula Houston were in charge of the food; decorations were the responsibility of Christine DeAngelis and Nancy Greeley; invitations were sent out by Claire Alpert and Mary Ellen Sullivan; and Christine Gould handled the finances of the event. When the band, Double Vision, stopped playing at around 1 a.m., the guests were off for another round of house parties where desserts or breakfast foods were served.

Pictured, clockwise from upper left: Four of the guests take to the dance floor, eventually convincing everyone else to do so; Chairperson Jean Mavrikos, left, converses with Baybank Chief Executive Officer John Bradbury and his wife, Paula, center; "Double Vision" entertained not only those who danced, but those who preferred to listen; Mr. and Mrs. Jack Dawson, right, prefer the "cheek-to-cheek" style of dance; John Bradbury jokes with Bob Hempe as Jean Mavrikos looks on; Mr. and Mrs. Enzo Fossella, "Enzo of Andover," (pictured first and third), join Mr. and Mrs. Richard DeAngelis, "Backstreet" restaurant, (pictured second and fourth), assemble for a toast; Those seated at Table 42 preferred conversation to dancing, while many took to the floor, and others were tempted by the buffet (center).

Mr. Schott is a graduate of Billerica Memorial High School and will graduate in May from the University of Massachusetts, Amherst, with a degree in Chemical Engineering.

A July wedding is planned.

Banquet Brunch Sunday

Hospice of Visiting Nurse Association HomeCare will hold its Fifth Annual Banquet Brunch on Sunday, Nov. 16, at the Lanam Club in Andover.

Held annually in November, which is designated as National Hospice Month by the National Hospice Organization (NHO), the benefit brunch draws families, friends and supporters from throughout the Greater Lawrence, Greater Haverhill and southern New Hampshire communities.

Attendance is open to the public. According to Hospice Director Constance Carroll, R.N., M.P.H., the annual event "helps to bring people from throughout the valley together in a show of support and compassion for the Hospice." Space is limited and individuals and families who have not yet received an invitation are urged to contact the Hospice program.

Observance of National Hospice Month will include a non-denominational memorial service November 23 and the opening of a new and specialized in-patient Hospice unit at Lawrence General Hospital.

According to the National Hospice Organization, the growth of Hospice programs in the United States has been tremendous. The NHO listed only one such program in 1975. In 1986 the number nationally totals 1,568. Two hundred and seventy-five programs have been able to achieve Medicare certification. VNA HomeCare Hospice is the only such certified program in the northeastern sector of Massachusetts.

VNA HomeCare's Medicare Hospice Certification covers nursing, physical therapy, speech therapy, medical social work, drugs for pain management and symptom control, homemaker services, home health aides, nutrition counseling and chaplain services. VNA HomeCare's trained and supervised Hospice volunteers provide on-going patient and family support.

VNA HomeCare, a non-profit group with centers in North Andover and Haverhill, has earned the support of the Merrimack Valley United Fund for its service to the community. It's programs, services and standards have received professional certification and community recognition for nearly a century of innovative, concerned response at every level of health care need.

Kitchen Design

by David A. Clement, Designer

CONVECTION OVENS

Introduced only a few years ago, convection ovens now are widely used. They have a small concealed interior fan that blows heated air completely around the oven interior. Because the air circulates, convection ovens bake and roast somewhat more rapidly than conventional ones. Their manufacturers also suggest that food bakes at temperatures 25 to 50 degrees lower than in conventional ovens. Combined, the two factors save some energy. A convection oven never gets hot outside, so it transfers little heat into the kitchen. It does not need venting and rarely smokes. Free-standing, self-cleaning models made with a stainless steel exterior, tray and grill are easy to clean.

There used to be a popular expression "Try it, you'll like it." This can be applied to all the new appliances on the market as well as the new ideas for kitchen remodelings. At WINDSOR KITCHENS we can show you how nice it would be to "try" a new layout with your new ovens. With some minor cabinet layout adjustments, you'll have more usable space in your kitchen than ever before. Don't be stuck in the dark ages, live in the 80's with our custom cabinets and appliances. We're at 1181 Boston Rd., Ward Hill. Hours: Wed 9-8; Thursday 9 to 5:30; Friday 9 to 5:30; Saturday 10 to 2, Sun., Mon., Tues., closed or by appointment. Tel 372-3444

Mr. and Mrs. John N. Flanagan

Patricia Ann Hart and John Newman Flanagan were married August 15 at the Collegiate Chapel of Christ the Teacher at Merrimack College. Uncles of the groom, the Rev. Joseph F.X. Flanagan, S.J. and the Rev. James H. Flanagan , officiated at the ceremony.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride was attended by Elizabeth A. Hart as maid of honor, Mary K. Alfonsi, Rosemarie Flanagan, Eileen M. Flanagan, Emily M. Flanagan as bridesmaids and Kara E. Alfonsi as flower girl.

James H. Flanagan was best man. Paul A. Flanagan, Newman A. Flanagan, Jr., William I. Hart and Michael S. Hart were ushers.

Following a reception at the Indian Ridge Country Club, the couple left for Ireland.

The bride, daughter of Mr and Mrs. William E. Hart of Andover, is a graduate of St. Anselm College and is working for the Criminal Justice Training Council in Needham.

Her husband, son of Honorable and Mrs. Newman A. Flanagan of West Roxbury, is a graduate of Fairfield University and New England School of Law. He is an attorney with the law firm White, Inca and Aronson of Boston.

The couple will live in West Roxbury.

Concert

The Reading Symphony Orchestra will perform its first concert of the season on Sunday, Nov. 23, at 3:30 p.m. at the Reading Memorial High School Auditorium.

Peter Cokkinias, clarinetist, will be the guest solois in von Weber's Concertina for Clarinet and Debussy's Premier Rhapsodie for Clarinet.

Cokkinias has had extensive experience as soloist with the Boston Symphony Orchestra, Springfield Symphony and the Concert Orchestra of Boston, as well as engagements with opera and ballet companies and in the Luciano Pavarotti movie "Yes, Georgio."

The remainder of the program will consist of Beethoven's Leonora Overture No. 3 and Schumann's Symphony No. 1, the Spring Symphony.

BEWARE.

Of the little things. Carefully contemplated and selected to add that special touch to a special ensemble. That's what the world of accessories is all about.

At KAPS, we feel that accessories are just as important as the main elements of an outfit. By nature, they are dual in purpose – they are functional and fashionable. For instance, while a red handkerchief might aid you during that first winter cold, it also adds depth to your look.

Take advantage of the power of accessories because a few small things, if selected properly, can surely make a large and powerful impact.

Just let your imagination run wild at KAPS. We have the widest selection of men's furnishings from suspenders to ties to socks to handkerchiefs to tie clips to cuff links to belts.

Accessories – explore the possibilities. At KAPS, of course.

St. Jude's Novena

May the Sacred Heart of Jesus be adored, glorified, loved and preserved throughout the world now and forever.

Sacred Heart of Jesus, pray for us. St. Jude, worker of miracles, pray for us. St. Jude, help of the hopeless, pray for us.

Say this prayer nine times a day. By the eighth day your prayer will be answered. It has never been known to fail.

Publication must be promised.

Wayne A. Smith

Wayne A. Smith, of Stowe Court, died Nov. 8, 1986, at Bon Secours Hospital. He was 80.

Mr. Smith was born in 1906 in Stafford Springs, Conn., where he lived until moving to Methuen to follow his trade as a weaver. He worked in the Arlington and Stevens Mills until they closed, after which he worked at Western Electric in North Andover until his retirement in 1968.

The widower of Louise J. (Turschman) Smith, he is survived by two sons, Frederick W. of Windham, N.H., and Ronald D. of Andover; a brother, Gifford, of Stafford Springs; a sister, Miss Cecilia Smith of Stafford Springs; three grandchildren, Glenn B., Randall B., and Kerri S. Smith, all of Andover; and several nieces and nephews.

Funeral services were held at the Charles F. Dewhirst Funeral Home in Methuen.

Burial was in Spring Grove Cemetery.

Santina M. Torrisi

Santina M. (Torrisi) Torrisi, 79, 27 Orchard St., died November 11, 1986, at her home.

Mrs. Torrisi was born in Lawrence and lived in Andover for 36 years. She attended Holy Rosary Church, Lawrence.

She was the widow of Thomas A. Torrisi who died in November 1985 and is survived by a son, Thomas R. of Methuen; a brother, Joseph T. Torrisi of Methuen; grandchildren, Sandra, Thomas, Jennifer and Jeffrey Torrisi, all of Methuen; and several nieces, nephews and cousins.

A Mass will be celebrated Friday at 10 a.m. in Holy Rosary Church. Burial will be in Immaculate Conception Cemetery.

Friends may call today from 2 p.m. to 4 p.m. and 7 p.m. to 9 p.m. at the Pollard Funeral Home, 233 Lawrence, Methuen.

Memorial contributions may be made to the American Cancer Society, 853 Main St., Suite 205, Tewksbury, Mass. 01876, or to the charity of one's choice.

Daniel Pingree

Daniel Pingree, 83, 45 Cheever Circle, died November 10, 1986, at Youville Hospital, Cambridge.

Mr. Pingree retired in 1971 from the National Fire Protection Association. He was also employed by the Factory Mutual Fire Insurance Co. and was a former member of the Boston Stock Exchange.

He was born in Providence, R.I., and was a graduate of Phillips Exeter, a 1924 graduate of Dartmouth College and received a master's degree in forestry from Yale University in 1926.

During World War II he was a fire warden in Andover and more recently was a member of the Andover Conservation Commission. He was also a member of West Parish Church and the Dartmouth and Yale Alumni.

He is survived by his wife, Elizabeth (Maconi) Pingree; sons, John Daniel of Newark, Del., David Edwin of Providence and Peter Durham of Andover; a daughter, Mrs. Michael (Sarah Jane) Dousa of Amherst, N.H.; and three grandchildren.

Funeral services will be today at 11:30 a.m. in West Parish Church. Burial will be in North Burial Ground, Providence.

Friends may call today from 10 a.m. to 11 a.m. at West Parish Church.

Memorial contributions may be made to the charity of one's choice.

Arrangements are by the Burke Funeral Home of Andover.

In amateur wrestling, before the rules were modified, contestants could be locked in holds for so long single bouts lasted 11 hours.

The first patent issued to a colonist went to Thomas Masters for a new invention by Sybilla, his wife, for cleaning and curing Indian corn in 1715.

The month of March was named after Mars, the Roman god of war, presumably signifying that the campaigns interrupted by the winter could be resumed.

The month of April comes from aperire, Latin for to open as do buds that month.

Auxiliary Makes Gift

Bon Secours Hospital Auxiliary president Joan Hatem prsented William L. Lane, hospital president/chief executive officer, with a check in the amount of $115,000 during the organization's recent annual meeting. The gift is targeted for Bon Secours' new Maternal Health Center.

"We are very pleased to make this gift to the hospital," commented Hatem. "Our membership raised the money through a variety of fund-raising activities during the past year and through the revenues from the hospital's coffee and gift shops."

"Bon Secours Hospital is most fortunate to have the generous support of the auxiliary," said Lane. "Their membership gives a tremendous amount of time and effort to make these fund-raising projects so successful."

The $115,000 gift represents the first payment in a three-year total pledge of $310,000 by the auxiliary for the new Maternal Health Center, which will provide obstetric and gynecological services in a private practice setting to those that need them regardless of their ability to pay.

Bon Secours Hospital is a member of Caritas Christi, the health care system of the Boston Archdiocese.

The first woman to hold a patent in her own name was Mary Kies for her 1809 invention—straw weaving with silk or thread.

IS DEPRESSION NORMAL?

Depression can be a normal human emotion or a disease with symptoms that can become so intense, life seems unbearable. Approximately 20 million Americans have depression requiring medical attention and it is estimated that about 10-20 percent of the U.S. population will have at least one episode of depression during their lifetime.

On Thursday, Nov. 20, at 7:30 p.m. a FREE SEMINAR on "Depression and its Treatment" will be held at THE SOMERS TRUST PSYCHOLOGICAL ASSOCIATES. Dr. Peter Mencher, a Board-Certified Psychiatrist on the staff of The Somers Trust, will talk bout the psychological and physical aspects of depression, its treatment and when people should seek professional help.

The seminar is FREE AND OPEN TO THE PUBLIC. It will be held at THE SOMERS TRUST PSYCHOLOGICAL ASSOCIATES, 789 Turnpike St., (Willows Professional Park, Rte. 114) North Andover, MA. Seating is limited so please call 688-8004 for a reservation or more information.

Gravel Pit Permit Brings Protests From Neighbors

By Karen L. Day

John DeLoury's petition for a special permit to use land at 8 Connector Road and vacant land on Connector Road for storage of gravel, loam and other non-hazardous materials brought abuttors to the Zoning Board of Appeals hearing last Thursday night in protest.

The petition was on of several heard by the board which took all matters under advisement

DeLoury's counsel, Atty. Reginald Marden, explained that the site had been used this way for the last four or five years, but that it was only this spring that the Building Department suggested he apply for a special permit. The site is a drop-off point for loam and gravel which is stored there for short periods of time until it is moved to another site. The company not only serves private organizations, but the Town of Andover as well.

Marden addressed the traffic issue, stating that DeLoury's trucks leave the site via Connector Road and continue on to Ballardvale St. into Wilmington and Route 93. Lowell Junction Road is not used, but Marden agreed that DeLoury could only control the path taken by his own drivers, not that of his customers. Marden suggested that the board could limit the term of the permit to five years.

Philip F. Wormwood, 11 Lowell Junction Road, complained about the noise level of the equipment, stating that "I like a little peace and quiet." Suggestions were made to curb business hours, and DeLoury offered to erect a 12 to 15 foot high wall to offset some of the noise.

Acting chairman of the board, Jane Griswold, stated that traffic data shows that Ballardvale St. is above capacity. She also read a letter to the board from Standard Machine Corp. in protest to the petition. In short, the letter commented that DeLoury had been operating without a permit for a number of years and that only a temporary, short-term permit should be granted to allow him to find another site for his business. Another letter composed by four other companies in the area stated that the permit should be granted.

Marden commented that the 25 to 30 trips made in and out of the site on a daily basis is far lower than it would be if the property was put into another industrial use. In addition to the 25 or 30 trips Deloury's trucks make, there are three or four trips made by customers' trucks per day.

Pat Thompson, 13 Lowell Junction Road, explained that the noise from screening and trucks on Saturdays is "putting an imposition on the residences." DeLoury agreed that he would not do screening on Saturdays and would open his business at a later hour on Saturdays in an attempt to accomodate the neighbors.

Freeman/Harrington Associates requested a variance and a special permit, both for parking, in an effort to convert a residential structure to a business at 172 River Road.

James L. Freeman explained that they need a variance to allow a parking area of five spaces, which is within guidelines set by the town, within 100 fet of the side lot line, and a special permit to allow parking within 50 feet of a public way. The petitioner commented that parking could be accomodated in the rear of the structure, but preferred the side-yard so as not to disturb neighboring residences.

Freeman commented that at best, there would be no more than five employees working there. As real estate developers, they are not in the business of selling individual properties and would thus have few, if any, customers visiting their office.

Explaining that although the use is not in accordance with the "campus style" development use preferred in the area by the Planning Board, they would be happy to sell the property at fair market value if a buyer with intentions of such a development were to offer at any point in the future.

Lionel P. Sirois, present owner of the property explained that he has had the house on the market several times in the last few years, but received no offers. "People don't want to raise kids in an industrial area," he said, "We're in a jam."

Kay Pelletier, 176 River Road, commented that she did not object to the petition, but would prefer the parking in the side-yard, rather than in the rear.

Hewlett-Packard Co. submitted a letter against the petition, stating that such a business did not fit in with the character of an industrial district.

Helen Towne, 21 Arundel St., petitioned the board to add an addition that would not meet setback requirements. Towne's son-in-law, Mark Tropiano, explained that he, his wife, and their two children had moved in with Mrs. Towne and wanted to add a bedroom, enclose the porch and add a bathroom to the existing structure, which does not meet setbacks presently.

New England Telephone petitioned the board

Housing Board Shows Interest In Summer Street Units

By Karen L. Day

Richard A. Savrann, chairman of the Andover Housing Authority, stated that the authority has taken an option on between eight and 16 of the 36 low to moderate income units proposed by Paul Bruk, at the continuance hearing before the Zoning Board of Appeals Friday night.

Bruk has petitioned the board for a comprehensive permit to build 36 low to moderate income condominium units on eight acres of presently vacant land, surrounded by residences on Elm, Pine and Summer streets and Washington Ave. Under the comprehensive permit process, the developer only petitions the Zoning Board of Appeals, which acts on behalf of all town bodies that may normally be involved with such a development.

Savrann explained that if the units themselves are acceptable and within acceptable price guidelines, the authority would request funding from the state to purchase the units, which in turn would be rented to low and moderate income families.

When asked by Francis O'Neil, Summer St., Central Andover Resident Association, what the "right price" was, Savrann commented that the state has recently been paying between $80,000 and $90,000 per unit, but may even go higher.

Robert Vanasse of Vanasse/Hangen, delivered the results of a traffic study done in the area where the proposed development would be located. When Vanasse stated that speeds recorded on Summer St. were in the range of 23 to 35 miles an hour, residents disagreed strongly. Vanasse continued, commenting that on the area streets, volume was lower than the roads could handle, and speeds and sitelines were acceptable. The only question the study had yet to answer was the eleven accidents recorded by the police department on Summer St. There is confusion as to whether the accidents all occurred between Washington and Pine streets or on a longer

Brief, Poignant Rites Mark Veterans Day Observance

By Susan O'Neill

The snow had just begun—small, wet flakes that sifted down upon the men and women who stood around the monument in the heart of the Spring Grove Cemetery. "It is the eleventh hour of the eleventh day of the eleventh month," began the man in the olive-drab uniform.

Around him, they stood at attention, in respect. The officials of this town that has grown so much since the first wreath was laid at the foot of the stone. Veterans of Foreign Wars. Members of the American Legion, the snowflakes bleeding into the grey of their hair. Women of the Auxiliary. Young men and women in uniforms of service—the military, the Police Department.

They laid the wreaths; they fired the rifles. Musicians played a hymn. Afterward, a young man in another uniform—the marching clothes of the high school band—played a solemn "Taps."

So began the ritual that, year after year, brings members of all American towns together to remember.

Here in Andover, on the first snowy day of late fall, the ceremonies were brief and poignant—remembering once again those sons and daughters of a then-small town who had served in two centuries of wars. And those, especially, who had died so far from the place and the families they knew as home.

From the cemetery, the characters in this yearly pageant moved to Ballardvale. Townspeople joined them, clustering, as if shy, behind the chain that marks the perimeter of the green. The grass beneath their feet glistened grey, coated by flakes that hesitated for a moment before they melted. It seemed a private gathering, curtained from the outside world by the veils of blowing snow.

New Firefighters

Two new firefighters have joined the Andover force. From left, Todd Pomerleau and Kevin Connors are congratulated by Town Clerk Elden Salter as Fire Chief Harold Hayes looks on. Pomerleau and Connor, who both live in Andover, previously served as fire/police dispatchers.

Budget Hearing Tuesday

The proposed budget for the Andover Public Schools, academic year 1987-1988. will be presented by Superintendent Kenneth Seifert at a meeting to be held in the Doherty Junior High Auditorium Tuesday, Nov. 18.

Included will be a presentation by the superintendent which will examine "where the schools are headed," according to Seifert, who contends that the school system is not "modernizing" itself.

"The stakes are very high," Seifert said, "people really should be paying attention."

Seifert hopes that parents and others will attend the meeting so that "as many people are informed as possible...understanding what is happening with their schools."

Andover Honors Those Who Served

On Veterans Day, a small group of citizens gathered to honor those who have served their country. At 11:00, they gathered in Spring Grove Cemetery to place a wreath at the veterans' memorial (first two photos, top left). At 11:30, they moved to Ballardvale Green, where Vietnam veteran Dr. George Pomerantz (third photo) grave a brief eulogy in honor of the Korean and Vietnam war dead. As the snow fell, ex-P.O.W. Wilfred Pelletier and his son (below, right) raised the M.I.A./P.O.W. flag over the green.

The Policy Is Simple

Selectmen this week debated the merits of setting a policy on what is open and closed as far as documents are concerned.

They indicate that as policy making body of the town they will determine what is and what isn't public.

Selectman William Dalton, on the subject of promoting openness, stated to his colleagues Monday night, 'There had better be a darn good reason not to release them' referring to recent controversy surrounding planning board and zoning board of appeals documents.

This is good philosophy, but the board, as well as other town boards and committees, are overlooking one thing.

There really is no problem in determining what is open and what is not as far as public documents or sessions are concerned.

There is in print and enacted into law, the Massachusetts Open Meeting Law (OML) which clearly spells out what a public body can and can not do with regard to conducting municipal business.

The problem arose when the planning board refused to give the members of the League of Women Voters some documents with regard to new rules and regulations. The planners decided that they were working documents, in part suggested changes or loosely defined as preliminary discussion.

League members appealed to the state division of public records which ruled that the documents were, in fact, public. Town counsel said the ruling was simply an opinion and would have to be tested in court, should the planners or administration wish to do so.

THe second difference of opinion came when the zoning board refused to make public a letter, with the chairman indicating to do so would be a violation of a lawyer-client relationship.

The matter was resolved with the release of the letter and pertinent documents through the town manager's office.

Andover, unfortunately, over the years has had a history of municipal bodies going behind closed doors or impounding documents from public view.

While such has not been the case in more recent years, there still remains the problems with overzealous municipal officials deciding what is proper for public consumption.

The fact of the matter remains, however, that public business is just that - - - public.

And, conformance to keeping government open and accessible to the public it serves has some very simple guidelines as proclaimed in the open meeting law.

It is the only policy needed.

And, we would be happy to supply sufficient copies of that law, should any municipal body not be aware of its mandates.

The local E.R.A. is still continuing, although a large part of the clerical staff has been transferred to Beverly. A total of 47 men and 18 women are being employed.

A number of the problems facing the local schools was brought to the attention of the members of the Andover Parent-Teacher Association at a meeting held in Stowe school hall last Wednesday night. The program, prepared by Mrs. Harold Rafton, was intended to cover the general needs of all the schools as well as the specific needs of some of the outlying schools.

The pastor of the Free Church has invited the American Legion and auxiliary and other patriotic organizations to attend church on Armistice Sunday morning at 10:45.

The blanketing of a section of River Road under the special state highway maintenance allotment of $1200 was completed this week. The work on Haverhill St. from the North Andover line to the concrete stretch was scheduled to start this morning.

The Andover Garden Club held its monthly meeting Tuesday at Phillips Inn. The speaker, Mrs. Romney Spring, gave a most interesting and instructive talk on the importance of arranging the grounds and garden in conjunction with the house.

Rats...soot...smoke...ashes. And the smell of burning garbage. How would you like to live with not one, but all, of these? That question was posed by about 15 residents of the area near the town dump, when they appeared at a hearing Monday night before the Board of Health.

A Fall Festival, full of values for shoppers, will be held by Andover merchants on Thursday and Friday. Retail establishments participating in the Festival will be open until 6 p.m. on Thursday evening and 9 p.m. on Friday evening.

Remembering The Very Human; The Lost

By Susan K. O'Neill

I knew my uncle Gene once, but I do not remember him. He disappeared when I was four. Before that, he stayed with us on weekends home from college.

That Gene went to college made him "different" from his four brothers and sister, who didn't. A student of political science, he toyed with theory in a world where practical men made cars.

Even then, college was expensive. Gene worked when he could. And he was a member of the Army Reserve. He had joined the Army after high school, in spite of the high blood pressure that would have exempted him, and had served his term in post-war Germany.

As luck would have it, Gene's reserve unit was called up before he had finished his junior year. The Army evidently lost his medical records, which would have positioned him behind the lines. They sent him to Korea as an infantryman.

There was, I remember, a picture on Grandma's wall—a painting of a narrow cliff that jutted into a cold blue sky.

I used to stare at that cliff—so exotic, such a contrast to the flat and grimy Indiana that was my whole world. It was the only oil painting I had ever seen that had not been a paint-by-number.

My grandmother told me that my uncle Gene had painted it.

Was Gene an artist? I asked.

No, she told me. He just had a talent.

Grandma seldom spoke about Uncle Gene. She had built a wall around his memory. There were times, however, when I caught a glimpse of him behind it.

Once, when I was young, she told me that he might still be alive somewhere.

Once, much later, as she watched T.V. news footage of young people demonstrating against a new war, she remarked, with bitterness, that Gene might have "gone over" to the North Koreans. He had read Marx and Mao; he had loved to argue about politics.

She had intended to shock me. But I was a teenager. Romantic. Mortified by a mother who shopped in curlers and a father who came home from the factory to watch T.V. in his undershirt and wait for supper. I cherished this mysterious, lost uncle—this possible communist.

Years have passed since then, and my father has told me small and ordinary things about my uncle. That Gene didn't get along well with Grandma. That he was a good student. That he had won a Bronze Star and a Purple Heart. That he was listed as Missing in Action in 1951, and was declared dead two years later—although no one ever found his body.

I can appreciate, now, the human picture I have of Gene. We would have had much in common—our embarrassment, at times, over our staid midwestern roots; our mutual escape from them to the Army; our artistic hobbies. We have both, unique in our families, gone to college. We have both gone to war. It's sad that we will never get to argue politics.

For me, Veteran's Day is not a celebration of heros. It is a remembrance of Gene and those like him—the very human; the lost.

May they all have found their way to peace.

Andover Girls Advance To Semifinals

By Jay Saunder

Two hard-fought wins against Arlington an Peabody netted the Lady Warriors a Division I North semifinalist spot.

Andover's first round match against Arlington was a test of patience and resolve. Arlington utilized five defenders in an effort to shut down the Warriors' attack. Aggressive midfield play, led by Doran, Fitzpatrick and Foster, applied constant pressure, but was unable to spring an attacker free.

Andover' defense was not tested until late in the firt half when Arlington began to counterattack from their defensive backs. Aftr a couple of close calls, stopper Michela Corkery and sweeper Cheryl Crawford tightened the defense and Andover regained control of the match.

Arlington changed to a more conventional four-back system in the second half and the game began to open up with attacks by both sides. Andover continued to dominate midfield and created the break at 8:19 when Denise Doran lofted a pass to Sharon Petzold, breaking free in the center. Petzold put the game-winner home with a quick shot as defenders were closing in.

Tough defensive play by Andover denied Arlington any serious opportunities to even the match.

Andover faced their second match in two days on Saturday as they faced second-seed Peabody. In the first half Andover took advantage of a strong, following wind and applied constant pressure. Peabody responded with an aggressive physical game, but each time Peabody appeared about to dominate, Andover rallied and regained control.

Andover's first-half dominance provided Coach Dick Loschi an opportunity to work with his defenders and make many necessary adjustments to contain Peabody's speedy wing attackers.

It was Peabody's turn to use a wind-assisted attack in the second half. Time and again Peabody pressed, only to be thwarted by the tough defensive play of Corkery, Crawford, Howe and Boland.

Peabody was especially dangerous on corner restarts. Alert goalkeeping by Karen DelSarto was augmented by fine defensive clearing in front of goal by Denise Doran and Beth Howe.

At the 23-minute mark of the second half, Allison Foster captured the ball from Peabody and sent a well placed pass to the forwards. As the ball landed, Peabody defenders and Warrior attackers converged. Quick response by Petzold provided a tenacious Kelly Ross the chance to ram the winning goal home and capture a semifinal berth.

A's Split Weekend Games

The Andover PeeWee A hockey team dropped a tough, hard-hitting 2-0 decision to Northern Middlesex (Lowell and Dracut). The first period was evenly played as neither team could find the right scoring combination. Northern Middlesex scored in the second period on a slapshot as Andover was caught in a line change. Billy Owens threaded the entire defense on a fine rush but couldn't beat the Northern Middlesex goalie. Mike Daley made several big saves to keep Andover close. Northern Middlesex added a big insurance goal with 3:12 remaining in period three. Andover pulled its goalie, but couldn't penetrate the solid Northern Middlesex defense.

Andover bounced back into the win column Sunday with a strong 6-1 performance over Amesbury. Game conditions were difficult as summer-like weather created a thick fog on the ice surface. Andover broke on top in the first period as Ed Thistle scored from the slot (assists to Brenden Finneran and Bob Sheehan). They pulled away in the second period on goals by Pete O'Shea (assisted by Don Fraser), Sheehan (assisted by Sean Darwin and Thistle) and Thistle (assisted by Darwin). Amesbury finally scored in the third period on a two-on-one break. Andover finished strong as Sheehan scored twice more for a hat trick off fine passing from Thistle and Darwin.

Squirt A's Split

Andover began their weekend with a Saturday morning game at Hockeytown in Saugus against Wilmington-League rival Reading. The game was even until midway through the second period when Reading got the first score off a goalmouth scramble. Andover came back to tie the game on a spectacular end-to-end rush by defenseman Adam Gurry. The game remained tied until late into the third period when Andover was forced to play shorthanded as the result of a questionable tripping call. Reading capitalized immediately by scoring on the power play. Reading iced the game in the final two minutes catching Andover in a line change for a 3-1 win.

Andover ended their weekend with a Sunday evening game at Merrimack College against Valley-League rival Amesbury. Gurry once again made a sensational end-to-end rush to give Andover a 1-0 lead. Brian Flanagan beat the goalie between the pads to raise the lead to 2-1, assists going to Ryan Doyle and Paul Allard. The final Andover goal was scored by Scott Munroe as he and Timmy McGovern converted a two-on-one break.

Andover's 3-1 win was highlighted by a number of spectacular saves by Fred Sunderland. Unfortunately, he lost his shutout when Amesbury scored with only 49 seconds left in the game.

Ski Club To Begin Season

The 1986-87 downhill ski season is at hand. Children five through high school and their families are invited to join the Andover Ski Club, a downhill ski race club and member of the Eastern Mass. Buddy Werner League.

Children participate in racing meets with ski clubs from other areas. Parents have an opportunity to meet other families with an avid interest in downhill skiing.

The first meeting will be held November 16 during the ski sale at West Junior High School in Andover from 10 a.m. to 4 p.m. Registration, schedules and dues will be done at that time.

Sunday Road Race Is Benefit

The Greater Lawrence Unit of the American Cancer Society will hold its eighth annual Race Against Cancer 10 K road race on Sunday, Nov. 16.

The race will start at 1 p.m. in the cage of Phillips Academy, Route 28, Andover.

Proceeds will benefit the American Cancer Society Greater Lawrence Unit. Questions concerning the race should be directed to Charlie Heseltine, Race Chairman, American Cancer Society, Merrimack Valley Office, 853 Main St., Suite 205, Tewksbury, MA 01876 or ask for Susan Gentile-Diamantopoulos, the unit director.

Swim

Using the water as a therapeutic environment to increase range of motion, tone muscles and promote endurance are a few benefits of a coed senior citizen's swim class at Lawrence YMCA, 40 Lawrence St., Lawrence.

Marcia E. Barnes, fitness director at Lawrence who has a backgrund in adapted therapeutics and geriatrics, is the instructor. The class is one-half hour of exercises in the water and one-half hour of recreational time. Swimming ability is not necessary.

Classes start November 17 from 9:30 a.m. to 10:30 a.m. or 1:30 p.m. to 2:30 p.m. Monday, Wednesday and Friday.

Call the Lawrence YMCA for more information.

On The Soccer Fields

By She Livermore

Teams in the A.S.A.'s In-Town League played their final games last weekend. Brief results of the games appear below together with results of the travelling teams who wind up their season next week.

Under 16 Division

Andover Cobras 3 - Wilmington 0

After a scoreless first half, Suzanne Gianelly gave the Cobras the lead on a beautiful long shot which went in over the keeper's head. Bridget Murphy upped the score when she received a perfect corner kick from Erin Lynch and beat the keeper on the left side of the net. Jodi Saunders closed the scoring, unassisted, to give the Cobras a 3-0 victory over Wilmington. BOW: Wendy Germain, Liz Hanson and Gianely.

Under 14 Division

Andover Kicks 1 - Reading 0

The Kicks had more players on hand than the Reading contingent, but good defense held them scoreless through the firt half and well into the second. Ultimately, the Kicks won the hard-fought victory following pressure in front of the net when Emily Curtiss and Danyelle Constantineau combined, both kicking the ball, which went into the Reading net off the foot of a defender. BOW: Branda Petzold, Jinyi Joo and Christina Chunias.

Andover Rowdies 5 - Woburn 0

The Rowdies overwhelmed a Woburn contingent on their home turf 5-0. Scott Eggert kicked in what proved to be the game winner on passes from Chris Kyle and Andy Brown. Kevin Smith scored on his own corner kick, Scott Halecki beat the keeper, unassisted, and Kyle made it 4-0 at the midway point with Dan Prudhomme and Halecki earning assists. Woburn tightened its defense in the second half allowing only one more successful shot on their net kicked in by Dave Halleran on passes from John Kulcsar and Prudhomme. BOW: Craig DerAnanian, Brian Workman, Scott Shattuck, Stephen Peck and Smith.

Andover Terminators 2 - Wilminton Cosmos 3

Wilmington scored two quick goals to take the lead. Gus Quattlebaum headed in a perfect corner kick from Rejji Hayes to make it 2-1 at the midway point. Wilmington pressed the attack and upped their total by one early in the second half. The Terminators narrowed the gap when John Christopher Martin beat the keeper on a pass by Chris Zappala and were fighting for the equalizer when time ran out. BOW: Wayne Mattola, Matt Reghitto, Tim Maracle, Kevin Foltz and keeper Keith Selvitelli for some great saves which kept his team in the game.

Andover Lightning 3 - Lowell 2

The heavy rains did not dampen the enthusiasm of the Lightning who defeated a team in Lowell 3-2. Mike Henry opened the scoring off a pass from Brad Cronin; Lowell kicked in the equalizer. Henry and Cronin combined for another goal in the second half and ten minutes later, Henry completed his hat trick off a pass from Brian Novelline. Lowell pressed, but good defense held them to one tally to retain the victory for the Lightning. BOW: Phil Meckel, Peter Martel and Peter Dennett who denied Lowell two certain goals in his sweeper position.

Under 12 Division

Andover Scorpions 2 - Medford 2

Medford scored early in the spirited contest. Becky Levine beat the keeper on a pass from Amy Pierro to make it a tie at the midway point. Midway through the second half Amy DiAdamo gave the Scorpions the lead when she scored following pressure in front of the net. With time running out, Medford scored one more to make it a hard-fought 2-2 tie. BOW: Ashley Forget, Allison Georgian and Maureen Wade.

Merrimack Valley League

Andoer Cheetahs 3 - Andover Leopards 3

The first half was scoreless. Paul Lisiak put his team ahead when he scored on a pass from Jason Twombly early in the second half. Cemil Erdam kicked in the equalizer for the Leopards on a pass from David Livingston. Robert Lee responded for the Cheetahs with Lisiak earning the assist and Erdam blasted in his second goal on a pass from Kevin Barry to make it 2-2. The Cheetahs' pressure was rewarded when Lisiak beat the keeper on a pass from Lee, however, the Leopards were not to be denied and when Barry scored on his own corner kick, the game ended in a hard-fought tie. BOW: Chris Park, Jonathan Shine and Rick Guenther (Andover Leopards) and the entire Andover Cheetahs lineup for a great team effort.

Andover Lions 0 - Andover Tigers 2

In a hard-fought contest, the Andover Tigers won the victory with one goal in the first half and another in the second. The Lions many attempts to deny the shutout were denied by good defense. BOW: Lee Farr, Kurt Ballou, Chris Marchetti and Matt Radack (Andover Lions).

By Meg Holmes

Earthquakes 3 - Hurricanes 1

Good defense kept the game scoreless until the second half when Earthquakes' Amanda Holmes, set up by Nicole Kramer, successfully cracked the Hurricane line. Julie Doherty scored, but Hurricane Amanda Nichols, assisted by Leah Hendrson, stormed back with a well-aimed goal of her own. The Earthquakes made their prsence felt for the final time when Diane D'Angelo fired in Katie Hansberry's pass. BOW: Sarah Witman and Erin Gammon (Hurricanes) and Rachel Buonopane and Emily Holt (Earthquakes).

Thunder 2 - Lightning 1

Lightnig struck first on a goal by Shannon Kelley from Rebecca Keaney's assist. Thunder's Annemarie Hussey took in Christine Durant's pass to tie it up. Both teams pressed for the tie-breaker and Thunder's Angela Roux booted in the winning goal. BOW: Katy Lennon for great goaltending and Megan Kelley and Tara Sollazzo (Lightning) and Meggan Harrmon, Mary Meyers and Kristin Belmonte (Thunder).

Tornadoes 2 - Blizzards 0

The Blizzards' defense was able to weather the Tornadoes for most of the match, but the Tornadoes whirled past twice to win. Emily Kalkstein, assisted by Sara Cooper, scored in the second quarter and Karen Silver scored in the fourth. BOW: Robin LaPointe and Jenny Pardo (Blizzards) and Kristen Gresh, Megan Selvitelli and Leah Bernstein (Tornadoes).

Paraguay 2 - Peru 1

Both teams were evenly matched with strong defenses that kept the first half scoreless. Paraguay's Todd Murray intercepted a pass and scored in the second half. Persistence paid off for Peru's Andrew MacNeil who booted in the equalizer on his fifth try. However, Paraguay's Dan Hansberry shot in Ed Jurdi's pass to win the game. BOW: Aaryn Schmuhl for excellent offense (Peru) and Roby Wyatt, Robert Derba and Ed Jurdi (Paraguay).

Argentina 2 - Venezuela 1

Davi Poulo shot in a penalty kick to give Venezuela the early lead. Argentina retaliated in the third quarter with Aaron Currier, assisted by Doug Batchelder, tieing the game and James Stratton scoring the tie-breaker. In the rain Venezuela pressed for the equalizer, but their final shot bounced off the cross bar. BOW: Nate Roberts and David Stutz (Venezuela) and Jonathan Vizzini and Bill Mann (Argentina).

Brazil 4 - Chile 2

With only eight players on hand and a torrential downpour, Chile led at the half 2-1 with goals by Jason Benedict and Eric Danis while Brazil's goal came from Mike Sullivan, assisted by Brian Marshall. Brazil dominated the second half to win the game with tallies by Marshall, from Tom Pecoraro, Matt Binda, from Kevin O'Brien, and Binda, on assists by Marshall and Chris Hoffman. BOW: Jeff Forlizzi and Rocky Tradd (Chile) and Chris Stamm and Mark Cutler (Brazil).

Thunder 2 - Tornadoes 1

Tornado Emily Kalkstein fired in Jennie Bradway's centering pass. It was blocked, but Kalkstein got the rebound and successfully scored. However, as it began to drizzle, Thunder began to roll. Angela Roux, set up by Annemarie Hussey and Chris Babine, shot in the tieing goal and teammate Chris Donovan, assisted by Melissa O'Brien, beat the keeper for the win. BOW: Lincoln Stevens for terrific coaching, Jennifer Kinsky and Karen Silver (Tornadoes) and Christine Durant for goaltending, Sarah Paskowski and Kristin Belmonte (Thunder).

Blizzards 1 - Earthquakes 1

The Blizzards took the early lead when Chris DerAnanian scored. The Earthquakes pressured and Amy Baggeroer shot in the equalizer with Diane D'Angelo's assist. Both teams weathered the rain for a well-earned tie. BOW: Bill Baggeroer and Jack Holmes for an outstanding job, Diane D'Angelo and Cassie Spieler (Earthquakes) and Jennie Pardo for great work as goalie, Susan Hoffman and Erica Campbell (Blizzards).

Lightning 2 - Hurricanes 0

Heavy rain did not dampen the spirits of either team. Lightning's Megan Kelley scored on Nina Zinicola's pass and teammate Jenna DeMarco blasted in a long shot to win the game. Both teams played their hearts out under poor weather conditions. BOW: Melissa King and Amanda Nichols (Hurricanes) and Gail Rollins, Rosario Navarro, Cate Williamson and Katy Lennon (Lightning).

Girls Hoop Coach Resigns

Marcia Hochman, head coach of women's basketball at Merrimack College the past 10 years, has resigned for personal reasons, the Merrimack athletic department has announced.

She will be replaced by her assistant coach for the past two years, Debbie Cogan, who assumes the position of head coach, effective immediately.

Hochman closed out her 10-year reign with a career record of 90 wins and 110 losses. Her teams compiled for winning seasons and six losing campaigns.

After being hired as Merrimack's third head coach of women's basketball in 1976, Hochman became a key figure in the development of women s basketball as a solid, Division III program that blossomed in the late 1970s. She guided the Warriors to three consecutive post-season playoff berths in the years 1979-82.

The team then took a step up the ladder to Division II competition in the 1982-83 campaign, initiating a rocky transition period that resulted in four losing seasons in a row, including an 8-17 slate last winter.

New head coach Cogan has been a full-time assistant basketball coach and head coach of women's volleyball at Merrimack since 1984. A 1983 Merrimack graduate, she is the Warriors' all-time career scoring leader in women's basketball with 1,161 points.

The Andover Townsman

Selectmen

documents want to jeopardize our (the town's) position," he said.

After further discussion, Dalton reshaped his motion, emphasizing that the town manager must come to the selectmen with the denial, and that the ultimate decision would belong to the selectmen. "We're the people that are supposed to keep the community in contact with the town," he said, adding that in the case of a denial, "People can point their fingers at the selectmen and say, 'Why didn't you release these documents?' "

Chairman Charles Wesson suggested that the responsibility might belong more appropriately to the town manager. "I'm saying that he makes the decision," he said. "If there's an appeal, it should come from the people."

"As an elected official," countered Dalton, "I'm not willing to give up that decision."

The board, preparing to vote, asked the secretary to read the motion. She read Dalton's first motion, and the board reacted with confusion.

Once again, Dalton re-phrased his motion. "The final decision not to release a document must be made by the Board of Selectmen," he added.

He directed Mahony to come back to the board with a more polished version of the policy suggestion, to be voted upon at the next meeting .

"I move the question," said one of the board members.

"Oh, please—before we get another motion!" urged Selectman Donn Byrne.

The vote for the open policy—the wording of which is yet to be approved—was unanimous.

In a separate action Monday night, the board agreed to entertain the establishment of budget monies for at least five new street lights per year, to begin with the next town meeting.

Selectman Dalton noted that, following the institution of Proposition 2 ½, the board had voted not to entertain new light requests.

Dalton observed that in some areas of town—for example, a segment of Lupine Road—the streets have long stretches of darkness that should be lighted. He said that he had been unwilling to bring the matter up because he realized that the board was bound by the previous board's vote not to make a decision on light placement.

"Anyone facing that decision would certainly be in the dark," agreed Chairman Wesson—to the groans of fellow board members.

Selectman Gerry Silverman added that, when a placement decision was to be made, the board should request the input of the Department of Public Works, whose workers would be charged with plowing the roads.

Also discussed was the number of street lights that are not working. Town Manager Mahony urged residents who have non-functioning street lights to call his office and ask the secretaries to notify the electric company. They should accompany their requests with the pole number of the deficient light or, if that is not available, the exact address of its location.

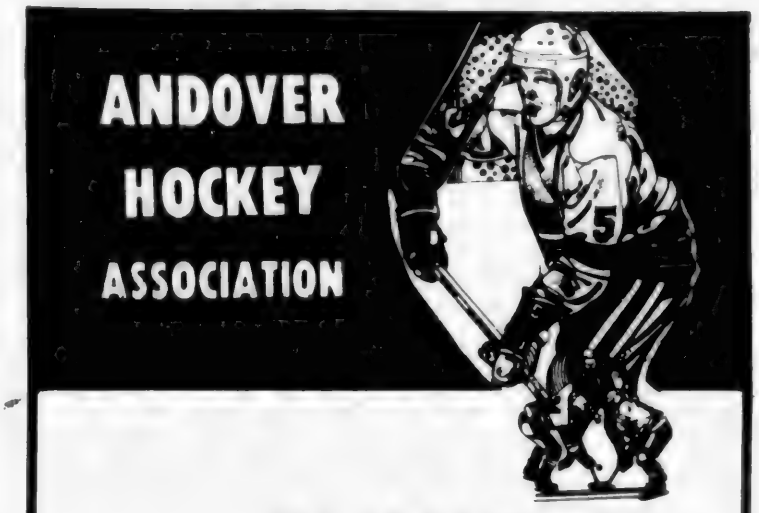

Overseas Mailing Due Soon

The postal service is reminding customers that, while Christmas may seem a long way off, now is the time to plan for holiday mailings to foreign countries. This is especially true for people who have relatives in the armed services stationed overseas.

Most packages destined to military personnel should be mailed in November. Packages weighing up to 30 pounds that do not exceed a combined length and girth measurement of 60 inches may be sent to military personnel via Parcel Air Lift (PAL). These packages are airlifted domestically to a gateway facility and then airlifted on a space available basis to the overseas military installation. Mailers pay the regular parcel post rate to the U.S. exit port or from the port of entry, plus a fee for air service.

Military parcels shipped in November may also go by Space Available Mail (SAM). This way packages are sent by land in the continental U.S. and then are flown overseas on a space-available basis.

The only recorded instance of a go-kart being driven around the world was a circumnavigation in 1961 over 23,300 land miles.

French Firm Acquires Building

Captaire, a French manufacturer, has purchased a 15,080 sq.ft. building at Elm Square Industrial Condominium on Route 114 in North Andover. The transaction was handled by Carlson Commercial, exclusive marketing agent for Elm Square. Representing Elm Square builders were Nelson H. Emmons and Madeline M. Sullivan; representing Captaire was Ed Fleming, also of Carlson Commercial.

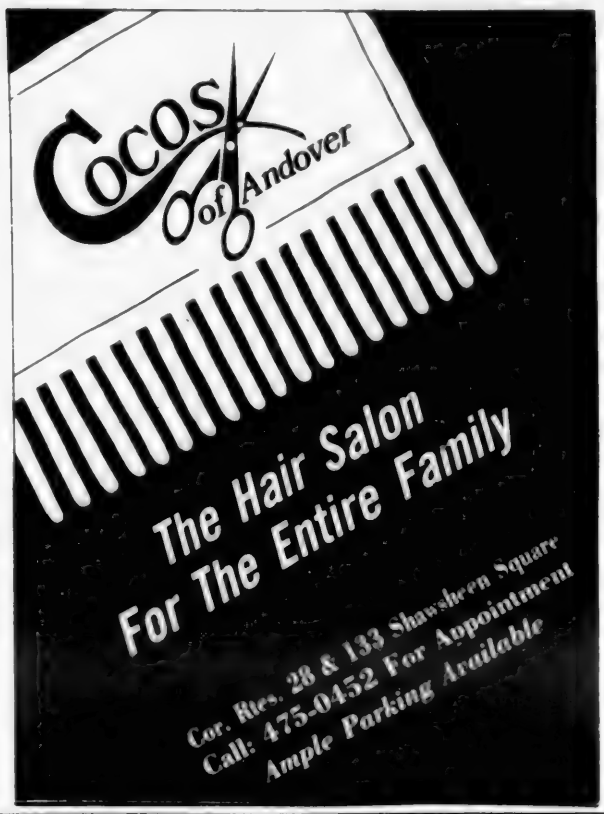

According to Emmons, Captaire, manufacturers of portable ductless fume hoods, is establishing a new U.S. division, Captaire/lab-x System Inc. to better serve its customers here. The Societe Generale of New York City provided financing for the purchase.

Emmons comments that two new buildings are still under construction at Elm Square and will be ready for occupancy in late November. The 6,400 sq.ft. and 10,000 sq.ft. buildings are available for similar manufacturing, office or R&D use.

Carlson Commercial is a division of the Carlson Companies, the leading real estate services firm north of Boston. Carlson Commercial has offices in Salem, Ma. and Manchester, N.H.

Carney Elected Director

Andover resident Karen Carney was elected to the Southern Essex Unit of the American Cancer Society's (ACS) board of directors during the unit's annual meeting.

Director of Public Relations for the Visiting Nurse Association (VNA) of North Shore and the VNA of Greater Lynn, Carney was also named chairperson of the ACS unit's public information committee. Made up entirely of volunteers, the committee publicizes the Southern Essex Unit's activities as well as general cancer information.

The Southern Essex ACS Unit, which serves nine towns in the North Shore area, is a voluntary organization dedicated to the control and eradication of cancer. Through its various committees and programs, the unit reaches out to the North Shore public to educate them on cancer and cancer detection, provides service to patients and families and supports the society's huge research program.

of the choir, a change that permitted the involvement of Radcliffe students and a far wider range of repertoire.

One of the oldest collegiate choral groups in the country, the choir provides music regularly at Memorial Church in addition to special concerts. The choir's annual Christmas carol concerts have become a Boston tradition. Established in 1910, these concerts have drawn people from throughout the Boston area and beyond.

There is no admission and the music department of Phillips Academy invited the public to attend.

Friday, Nov. 14, Faculty organ concert: Carolyn Dday Skelton, academy organist; Academy Chamber Players, William Thomas, conductor, 7:30 p.m. Cochran Chapel, Andover.

Saturday, Nov. 15, the Harvard University Choir, John Ferris, director, Nancy Granert, organist. 8 p.m. Cochran Chapel, Andover.

Sunday, Nov. 16, Ecumenical Service of Thanks and Praise, Chapel Ministry, Fidelio Society, Cantata Choir, Academy Chamber Orchestra, Carolyn Day Skelton, organist. 11 a.m. Cochran Chapel, Andover.

Dr. Curtis A. Siller, Jr.

Named To Program Committee

Dr. Curtis A. Siller, Jr., 3 Wintergreen Circle, Andover, is serving as a technical program committee member and session chairperson-organizer for Globecom '86, an international communications conference to be held in Houston, Texas, in December.

On behalf of the Signal Processing and Communication Electronics Committee of the Institute of Electrical and Electronics Engineers' Communications Society, he and several international associates planned a technical program that includes 35 papers from eight countries and represents five areas of communications: switched digital networks, international standards for digitized voice, image transmission, integrated circuits and digital signal processing. The conference will have approximately 350 papers and is expected to draw an audience of nearly 2,000 engineers, scientists and communications managers from throughout the world.

Siller became a member of the IEEE in 1971 and was elevated to senior member in 1985. He is a distinguished member of technical staff at AT&T Bell Laboratories, North Andover, where he has done exploratory studies in electromagnetics, digital communications and signal processing since 1969. His current area of research is digital data transmission networks. Siller has published extensively in these areas, holds one patent and has several others pending.

Living tableaus of the great art masterpieces attract over 100,000 visitors to Laguna Beach, Calif., each year.

Volunteers

Applicants are being sought for an upcoming opening in the VISTA volunteer program. Retired individuals, 60 years of age, who have an interest in contributing their time and skills to benefit low income elders are encouraged to apply. Duties would include recruiting, interviewing and assisting with advocacy for an elder employment program. VISTA volunteers receive a monthly income and benefits. Interested persons may call Dan Madio, Elder Services of the Merrimack Valley, 420 Common St., Lawrence.

Lecture

Prof. Marshall Winokur of the Russian Department of the University of Alabama will give a slide lecture at Phillips Exeter Academy on Friday, Nov. 21, in the Assembly Hall on Front Street at 8 p.m. His talk, entitled "the Case of Moscow's Vanishing Churches," is sponsored by the Julia Whitney Foundation. The public is invited.

Winokur's illustrated lecture describes the evolution of the Russian Orthodox churches in the Soviet capital since 1917. Slides of Moscow's most spectacular ecclesiastical structures, which were either destroyed or allowed to survive as seculrized active or abandoned churches, highlight the program. Included are rare, prerevolutionary views of Moscow's churches as well as contemporary color slides.

If the roads aren't perfect where you live,

you're ready for an Audi.

The 1987 Audi 4000CS Quattro $19,850*

Rough pavement. Loose gravel. Bumpy patches. The 1987 4000CS Quattro with permanent all-wheel drive goes a long way toward dealing with road conditions. Traction efficiency is maximized by distributing the engine's power to all four wheels all of the time. The result is an enhanced feeling of driver control. On any road. In virtually any weather.

Come in for a test drive soon. You can feel the difference permanent all-wheel drive makes, even on a perfect road.

And Park Audi is ready for you.

Plant Expectations Inc.: A Garden Of Delights For Home or Office

Mark Carroll displays a magnificent Corn plant

Don't you just love it when you buy a healthy ,green, leafy plant that perks up that ordinary room in your house? And don't you just hate it when it dies, even after you've fed it, watered it, and even talked to it? Well cheer up plant killers, Plant Expectations Inc. will send Mark Carroll to the rescue.

Mark Carroll, owner of Plant Expectations Inc., developed a love of working with plants during the three years he worked at The Flower Market at Faneuil Hall. He will come out to your home or office, free of charge. He will determine your price range before he begins to map out a botanical design for you. You will be shown a portfolio of plants you can choose from. He will take into consideration the lighting available, the conditions, including temperature, and the height of the ceilings in order to select the perfect plants. The decor of your home or office will also be considered in determining the type of baskets and ropes used.

Mark will draw up a proposal for his clients, including estimates. Clients will be given the option of choosing a maintenance contract which takes the responsibility for caring for the plants out of your hands and into the expert hands of Mark Carroll. Under the service contract, Mark is responsible if your plants don't thrive and he will replace them if necessary. If a maintenance contract is not desired, Mark will offer his expert advice on how to care for your plants.

Plant Expectations Inc. is located at Executive Junction, 1 Parker Street, Lawrence. Call Mark Carroll anytime at 686-6780, and add some new life to your home or business.

Doran's Delivery Service: Airport Transportation - Your Way

Our world today is a fast moving one in which many people choose air travel as their primary means of transportation for business or pleasure. Air travel is fast, efficient and convenient. There is one hitch, however: Getting to and from the airport can be a big headache. Let Doran's Delivery Service make your airport trips calm and comfortable.

Doran's Delivery Service specializes in airport transportation. Doran's airport service differs from other airport services in many ways. Other services have a set schedule of airport runs, which means you go to the airport at their convenience. Doran's Delivery Service takes you to the airport at your convenience. Brook anytime, early morning or late at night. Doran's will take you in and pick you up at the time you request.

Another advantage of Doran's Airport service is that when you hire their service, you are the only passenger. Other airport services make numerous and time consuming stops along the way. Not Doran's. The whole car is yours. rates to Logan are $30.00 for up to 2 passengers, $35.00 for up to 4.

Doran's Delivery Service does more than just take you to the airport. you've heard of "overnight" or "next day" delivery? Well, Doran's has a courier service that offers immediate delivery. If you call anytime between 7 a.m. and 7 p.m., a driver will pick-up your package, packet or envelope and transport it to your destination. Doran's is finding that many businesses and particularly attorneys are taking advantage of their courier service.

Doran's fleet of six cars and staff of nine also provide local service. Both taxi and courier service run daily from 7-7. Call 470-0809 for courier service or 470-3383 for all other services. Doran Delivery Service is located at Balmoral St., Andover.

Elm Street Automotive at its new location - 9 Lupine Road

Elm Street Automotive: Home At Last!

If you have been following the continuing saga of Elm Street Automotive and their quest for a new home, you can now rest easy; the story has a happy ending. Ron Abraham, Julio and the entire Elm Street Automotive staff have moved to a new location at 9 Lupine Road in Andover.

At its new location, Elm Street Automotive will be better able to serve its customers. Ron Abraham has doubled his space, thereby doubling his working capacity. The Lupine Road site is convenient from town, yet gets you away from downtown congestion, and parking is ample and easy.

Although the location has changed, the services remain the same. Elm Street Automotive continues to offer 24 hour towing and road service, and since breakdowns never occur at a convenient time, this service is invaluable. Their fleet of towing vehicles, including a flatbed and a large wrecker for trucks are ready and available to provide service to distressed motorists.

Elm Street Automotive is also in the business of preventing breakdowns. Bring your car in for regular tune-ups, or prepare for winter by having them check your antifreeze and any other problems that might interfere with your car's performance in wintry weather.

They offer complete automobile and light truck repairs for both foreign and domestic models.

Remember — only the location has changed. It's the same name, same telephone number, same expertise and same great service. Call 475-5873, or come in Monday - Friday, 7:00 a.m. to 6:00 p.m. or Saturday, 7:00 a.m. to 12:00 p.m. MasterCard and Visa accepted. Elaine Long moved to the podium, which had been draped with plastic against the wetness of the day.

Veterans Day

Sixteen years ago, this man, Dr. George Pomerantz, presided over a hospital. It had stood in dry, hot dust or clinging mud, depending on the time of year—a cluster of quonset-style buildings crafted of inflatable olive-green rubber. It served men and women, and children, left broken by battle, lifted in—and out, when their luck held—by flying machines that must have seemed monstrous to the simple farmers who had been born in the surrounding countryside.

Pomerantz now lives in Andover, in another world. He is a surgeon; he operates within the square walls of local hospitals, working over those wounded in everyday life in peacetime America.

At the podium, Pomerantz spoke to the denizens of this America, many of whom had shared the unreality that he had lived sixteen years ago. He spoke, briefly, of war—of 200 years of it. Of a century that had known four major wars, two of which are, strangely, called "conflicts."

These wars, said Pomerantz, bear witness to mankind's inability to deal with his differences by peaceful means. On this anniversary of the day that was to mark the end of the "War to End All Wars," a title, the doctor noted, that proved to be erroneously optimistic, he urged those about him to re-dedicate themselves to the goal of creating peace.

"Mankind is still striving today to beat our guns into plowshares," he said. "We the living have the duty and honor to continue that fight."

Pomerantz stepped back.

Children's voices joined in a hymn; a band of children played a medley of Civil War songs. Then, as the snow pelted down with renewed vigor, the flakes now grown fat, men placed wreaths on monuments that bore newer names than those called to mind by the stone in the cemetery.

A volley of rifles; children clamped mittened hands over their ears . Mournful notes from a bagpipe. And a black flag, bearing the letters "P.O.W." and "M.I.A." ascended the tall metal pole, lifted into the grey sky by a man who understood, firsthand, the agony of imprisonment in a foreign land.

A pause; then, wet feet shuffled through the filmed grass toward cars, buses and nearby homes.

The ritual is over; the eleventh hour has passed. All that is left on Ballardvale Green are the flag and the wreaths. And the stones, names carved into their hard faces to last through winters and summers, perhaps beyond the memories of those who knew the men who owned them.

Housing

stretch, between Elm St. and Route 125.

Peggy Smith, 58 Summer St., citing the accident record in the area, commented that adding another intersection in the neighborhood, which would allow entrance to the development, would be "negligent and blatantly unfair" to the abuttors and other area residents.

O'Neil questionned the traffic figures, stating that the counting was done by "very young people sitting in lawn chairs, having a good time."

Robert McQuade, director of public works, presented his opinion to the board on water, sewage and drainage. Commenting that the water and sewage systems were acceptable, McQuade introduced Michael Shaw of Goldberg, Zoino and Associates, who presented the findings of a hydrological study to the board.

After explaining how such a study is done, Shaw commented that he felt that the development, which would include a 25 year storm, or drainage pond, to contain water until it could be absorbed into the ground, would not add to the pre-existing drainage problems of the area residents.

McQuade commented that he has been, in the past, against the use of drainage ponds because the developers expect the town to maintain them, but with this plan, the developer himself will be responsible for maintenance. The comprehensive permit, if issued, would include the suggestions contained in the study as conditions that must be met by the developer.

When Alfred Spatola, 29 Argilla Road, asked if winter thaws and frozen ground were taken into consideraton in the study and planning, Shaw assured him that they were.

Ruth Golden, Avon St., asked if the "pond" would be fenced in. McQuade stated that fencing wouldn't be necessary since the pond would not contain any water except for a short period of about 24 hours after a storm.

Barbara Fogg, 50 Summer St., commented that after a storm there is often water two or three inches deep in her yard for up to four days.

On the subject of developer maintenance of the pond, a Pine St. resident requested that a trust fund be set up to cover maintenance costs of the pond should the developer go bankrupt.

The Zoning Board of Appeals now has 40 days in which to make a decision on whether or not to award Bruk the requested permit, and if in favor, will incorporate suggestions of other boards and outside agencies.

Harvest Festival At Sanborn

November 17-21 will be a week of sharing and caring at Sanborn School in Andover. Children bring in canned and baked goods and plants. For Those Of Us Who Are Older

By Janet D. Lake

Travel Day at the senior center will be Tuesday, Nov. 18, at 12:45 p.m. Under the direction of Tom Rooney of Collette Tours, there will be slides, brochures, prizes and fun. Come learn about the trips proposed for 1987. How about Atlantic City? Washington, D.C.? Toronto, Ottawa and Niagara Falls? And then, of course, Hawaii. Armchair travelers are invited to enjoy, too.

Tickets for the Elks Club Christmas parties December 7 and 14 will be distributed Monday, Nov. 24, at 10 a.m. This annual event is always popular and the number of tickets is limited, so don't dray your feet getting down to the center to get yours. Transportation has been arranged for those who need it on the following schedule: Dec. 7, Stowe Court, Memorial Circle, Frye Circle and Granview Terrace; Dec. 14, The Andover Commons and all other locations. Tickets are free and distributed on a first-come, first-served basis. Remember, Monday, Nov. 24, 10 a.m. for distribution.

The annual Holiday Fair will be held at the center on Monday, Nov. 17, from 10 a.m. to 3 p.m. Volunteers with baked goods will be most welcome. A collection of craft items, Christmas decorations, knitted goods, etc. will be there for your shopping. Procceds go to the activities fund of the center.

The cheese distribution will also be that day, November 17, from 10 a.m. to 4 p.m. Cheese, four, rice and butter, will be given to those who have preregistered.

The regular monthly meeting of the Haven Associates on Thursday, Nov. 20, in Stowe Court at 1 p.m. will have Jeff Hansis of the "Eagle Tribune" as guest speaker, He will speak on "Hypnosis." All are welcome.

There is room for you on the bus to Fall River next Monday, Nov. 17, if you call the center right away. The cost is $10 and it's an opportunity to tour the shopping outlets there. But, you must call right now.

Tuesday, Dec. 2, is the date of the next in the health education series put on by the Andover health department. Time is 12:45 p.m. Watch next week's paper for the subject. The next mini-clinic is November 18 at Andover Commons.

The annual harvest of an entire coffee tree is required for a single pound of ground coffee.

Mass. Electric Receives Awards

For the third year in a row, Mass. Electric received awards for energy innovation from the Commonwealth's Executive Office of Energy Resources. This year, two programs sponsored by the company received awards in a ceremony marking "Energy Week" in Massachusetts.

"We are pleased that utilities in Massachusetts are keeping alive the New England tradition of hard work and innovation," said Mass. Energy Secretary Sharon M. Pollard. "Mass. Electric is to be commended for its ongoing interest in alternate energy and conservation."

The awards were given for Mass. Electric's solar photovoltaic research experiment in Gardner and the "Enterprise Zone" conservation initiative being conducted in 20 Massachusetts communities in the central and western parts of the state.

"We began the solar photovoltaic program in Gardner to learn more about how this alternate energy source can benefit utilities in the future," said Mass. Electric's Manager of Energy Conservation Donald E. Robinson. "This program allows us to now take a look at a technology that may become commonplace in the 21st century."

Mass. Electric's solar photovoltaic program is the largest of its type in the world. Thirty residential homes and five commercial sites have had panels installed. The project was also selected to receive a federal energy innovation award from the U.S. Department of Energy.

The "Enterprise Zone" conservation program is a multi-faceted program designed to assist all classes of customers in targeted communities to save energy. Approximately 36,000 customers are eligible for the program that encourages the use of a variety of energy-efficient measures in homes and busineses.

"Both programs are designed to assist areas of the state that have not yet fully experienced the economic prosperity of recent years," added Robinson. "In both projects, we use local contractors and vendors as much as possible so that we can help to create jobs while helping customers to save money."

The solar photovoltaic and conservation programs stem from NEESPLAN II, the long-range corporate plan of Mass. Electric's parent company, New England Electric of Westborough. The prime objectives of the plan are to provide an adequate supply of electricity to customers at the lowest possible cost and encourage customers to use electricity efficiently. At New England Electric, conservation is encouraged as another way to avoid building costly new generating plants.

Mass. Electric serves 829,000 customers in 146 Massachusetts communities.

Massachusetts Department of Public Works' $56,000,000 program to upgrade the state's remaining 126.9 miles of Interstate Highway to the latest National Safety Standards is expected to give a boost to Massachusetts' sagging construction industry by providing upwards of 4000 on and off-site jobs for these various statewide projects.

The controversial teacher transfers, part of a plan to eliminate two elementary teaching salaries, were cancelled by the School Committee Monday night.

Volunteers

Memorial Hall Library is looking for volunteers to aid patrons in using the keyboard access to its computerized catalog. Those interested will be given an orientation and asked to volunteer one or two hours/week during the library's busy hours, including weekends and nights. Call Shirley McGrath or Dot Sherrerd for further information.

Holiday Closing

Memorial Hall Library will be closed Tuesday, Nov. 11, in observance of Veteran's Day.

Artist Of The Month

The watercolor paintings of Shirley Winslow of Tewksbury are on display at Memorial Hall Library during November. A graduate of Salve Regina College, Winslow has studied art since the age of 10, attending classes for young people at the Rhode Island School of Design. In recent years she has studied watercolor with George Shedd and pastel portraiture with Judi Betts and Ruth Wynn and has been influenced by their works and those of Burt Silverman.

Her favorite subjects include people and their relationships, as well as landscapes of New England, its coasts and country roads. She is a member of the Reading Art Association, Lexington Painters Guild and the Chelmsford Art Society and in the past year has received several first prize awards for her work.

This will be the last art exhibit at Memorial Hall Library until the completion of the addition and renovation. Anyone interested in displaying their work in the future may contact Dorothy Sherrerd, community services librarian.

The month of June was named by the Romans for their goddess Juno, queen of heaven and special patron of women and marriage.

"Firebugs"

"The Firebugs," a play by Max Frisch, will be performed at Bradford College on November 13, 14 and 15 at 8 p.m. in Denworth Hall's Kemper Theatre.

"The Firebugs," which was written firt as a radio play in 1953, takes a darkly humorous look at what can hpapen to normally acceptable moral standards in an atmosphere of terrorism.

The city has been plagued with arson; whole districts have gone up in flames. The arsonists pose as peddlers and seek shelter in the attics of the well-to-do. Gottlieb Biederman, a successful hair-tonic salesman, knows what to do: "Hang them all and show no mercy."

The play is directed by Scott Stroot, assistant professor of drama at Bradford.

Recapturing the country charm, the gracious living of another era.

Pre-completion prices from the $140's.

The Meadows is a community of elegant colonial and ranch homes situated on the old Anderson Farm. Here you'll find things the way they used to be, the way they should be — with apple trees, stone fences, blueberry bushes and country paths. Yet you enjoy all of today's resort-style living.

Spacious Homes.

The two and three-bedroom homes are attached by breezeways at the garage to achieve a separate single-family home effect. Design emphasizes space, with Euro-style kitchens as great rooms, cathedral ceilings, skylights and private decks. Features include brick entry steps, cedar siding, brick fireplaces, fully appliianced kitchens with microwave ovens, central air conditioning and automatic garage door openers. Extra insulation and gas heat ensure energy-efficiency. Townhouses, offering many of the same features, are also available from the $120's.

Exceptional Amenities.

Century Village vacation living includes a 10-acre pond with docking facilities and a jogging trail with exercise stations (both underway), park-like areas, an outstanding clubhouse, swimming pools, fitness center and tennis courts.

Convenient to Boston.

The Hawkswood Estate at Point Shore:

Incomparable Elegance

At An Understated Price

We have something splendid here.

A private and very special place.

A haven on a ten-acre penninsula overlooking one of New England's great rivers and 450 protected acres where eagles, heron and osprey come to nest.

Most emphatically, these dwellings are not the typical "condo," the smallish place one settles for when his "real" home becomes too much of a bother. No, these are 2,500 to 3,500 square foot units— elegant, spacious, secure and private.

Very, very private.

The Estate contains only 18 homes, all on the waterfront.

The final three units are now available. We believe the quality of the construction, amenities and materials— even to the smallest details— cannot be approached anywhere on the North Shore at this price.

The interiors are exquisitely appointed: Italian marble in the foyer and bath; a grand turning staircase leading to the second floor: Jennaire, Amana, Beckermann, and Grohe in the kitchen.

Garages for your cars and a dock for your boats. Professionally maintained grounds. Services of an interior designer, at no charge, for help in the completion of the decor.

And so on.

You may look upon Hawkswood as a vacation home that you're fortunate enough to live in year round.

Or as one of the last remaining gracious havens within the North Shore, yet only minutes from downtown Newburyport.

Or as an attractive alternative to paying up to twice as much for not as much in one of the better parts of, say, Boston.

At any rate, if you're prepared to invest between $385,000 and $465,000 to fulfill a slightly immodest dream, we would be happy to arrange a private showing of our furnished model unit.

The sales office is open Wednesday through Friday from 4 to 7 p.m.; Saturday and Sunday from 1 to 4 p.m.; or by appointment. For additional information call (617) 975-5555.

THREE PRICE OPINIONS

The one gnawing question that always agonizes any homebuyer is: "Am I paying too much for the house?" I can understand the nervousness, but there are safeguards built into the system.

When you look at a house for sale, the price reflects the owner's opinion of the value. Naturally, he doesn't want to price himself out of the market.

If you look at houses listed with a real estate agent, the seller will have considered the agent's professional opinion of the value. This will include the average selling prices of comparable homes in the same location.

If you will be mortgaging your purchase, the bank will appraise the home to ensure adeauate security for the loan. In other words, before you actually close on the house, you will normally have at least three opinions of value supporting your price.

If you take the time to study the market and work through a professional agency, the chances are excellent that you will find a home which meets your expectations as well as your budget.

GREENING YOUR HOME

Fifteen years ago a developer may have bulldozed housing tracts so as not to hinder the movement of machinery during construction That is generally no longer the case Today a builder knows that good landscaping helps to sell a house As a consequence he is more apt to leave trees standing that are as close as fifteen feet to the foundation As a homeowner and prospective home seller one can benefit from the positive correlation between good landscaping and higher resale value A study by the U S Forest Service established that trees alone can contribute up to 15 percent of the value of a home The lawn and landscaping contribute mightily to the vital first impression that a prospective buyer gets from curbside As we all know first impressions count

AT CENTURY 21 SHAWSHEEN REALTY INC we not only know that the first impressions a prospective buyer receives about entering your home are extremely important but we can also when we list and market a property very often we give the seller suggestions to make it more attractive and therefore saleable Our experience and knowledge in very pertinant area related to real estate make us the people to help you in your next real estate adventure You'll find us located at located at 8-10 Haverhill St 470-3873 We are open daily evenings and weekends

REAL ESTATE GUIDELINES

Realty U.S.A.
Schruender Real Estate

DETERMINING YOUR HOME'S MARKET VALUE

With the recent interest rate declines, we are seeing a lively real estate market and, in general, higher home prices. Even so, it's crucial to avoid overpricing your home if you plan to sell.

When you decide to list your property, your agent will prepare a market analysis for you. This will have prices of homes similar to yours that have sold recently in your area. These prices come from official sales records, and will be much more reliable than word-of-mouth information from your neighbors. The agent will help you make comparisons. You can adjust your price downward if your home lacks major features the comparables had; for example: a garage, finished basement, updated kitchen, or fireplace. If your home has features not found in the others, your agent can help you decide if a higher price is appropriate. The market analysis will give you a good idea of what your home is likely to sell for. If you keep your list price within five percent of the market price, your home has an excellent chance of selling quickly and for top dollar.

One of the professionals at Realty USA Schruender Real Estate would be happy to arrange a free market analysis of your home. Just call 685-5000 or drop by our offices at 73 Chickering Road, North Andover.

Special Ed. Grants Awarded Andover, Vocational Schools

By Karen L. Day

Andover has been awarded federal educational grants totaling $284,387 for the 1987-1988 school year. Two separate grants were given the Andover schools for the area of special education and one given the Lawrence Regional Vocational Technical High School, also for special education.

The first of the grants for Andover's public schools, under public law 89-313, is intended to provide "funds for students who are or were previously in state-operated or state-supported facilities," predominantly those who are more severely handicapped. Thirty-two Andover students are eligible under this grant, and the state will supply $700 per student, for a total of $22,400.

The special needs program will also receive an additional $184,175 under public law 94-142, a comprehensive grant intended to aid in the overall operation of helping special needs students of the town. The breakdown of this grant indicates that 695 students will be aided with an entitlement of $265 per student.

In announcing these two awards, State Department of Education commissioner Ron Ravnolds stated that both federally-supported programs have accomplished measurable progress in reading, writing and arithmatic in special needs students.

Pupil Personnel Administrator Mary French commented that this funding is "an integral part of the budget" for special needs, "these are counted on," she added. According to French, these monies cannot be used to pay for programs or positions orignally funded by the town, but can only be used to enhance those programs, add staff, or implement new programs.

Under public law 98-521, Lawrence Vocational Technical received federal funding designed to improve education and increase employment possiblities for the targeted school possiblities. Funding included greater guidance for the handicapped and academic aid for students with limited English-speaking ability.

Monies will be used to implement computer typesetting for the handicapped, a study of handicapped graduates to analyze program effectiveness, remediation of basic English and math skills, information dissemination, limited English training and machine lathe numerical controls.

in order to erect a structure to house switching equipment at 1 Connector Road. The structure will not meet setback requirements.

Edward Shandley explained that the proximity to the street was essential in repairing equipment. He added that the site was a central location and would aid in the increasing the lines needed to accomidate local industry.

Doctor's Park Associates petitioned the board to erect two six square foot directional signs within the park. Representation explained that the lack of directional signs has been a hardship on the sick and elderly who have difficulty finding out where they need to go. Since the park contains departments in more than 14 disciplines, the situation is quite confusing.

a social function. Gourmet Take Away provides the Self-Catering service to enable customers to cater parties or get togethers with the finest foods economically.

Gourmet Take Away is conveniently located on Route 28 at the entrance of Alexander's Super Market in Salem, N.H.

Although the food at Gourmet Take Away is top shelf cuisine, the prices are lower compared to other restaurants serving the same kind of food. For example, Boustani said his king-size lamb on the skewer complete dinner would cost $12-13 at a regular restaurant while it costs $8.95 at his.

Of course, Boustani's restaurant is a take-out service, but none of the hospitality is spared. Boustani said, "This is a new concept, but it's our established cuisine."

Delicious entrees include spinach pies, stuffed grape leaves, lamb and beef tenderloin on the skewer, baked stuffed shrimp, quiches and Middle Eastern assortment platters. Scrumptious pastries, tarts and cakes are also available.

Gourmet Take Away is a family affair. Besides Chef Boustani, his mother, Kronfli, his sisters, Nadia and Fadia, and his brother, Kamal, share in the responsibilities.

Boustani, who is an authority on Middle Eastern cuisine, came to the United states from Beruit, Lebanon, in 1973. His family followed in 1975 when a three-day war broke out in Beruit forcing them to escape, leaving behind all their belongings.

Szechuan Cuisine A Specialty

The Lin Garden Restaurant, located at 511 Merrimack St. Route 110, Dracut, is one of the two restaurants located in the Merrimack Valley that offers a fine selection of authentic Szechuan cuisine that can be enjoyed while overlooking a beautiful view of the Merrimack River.

The restaurant offers Mandarin and Polynesian cuisine, also. Fresh vegetables, fish and meat are used for the wide selection of dishes. Freshness and the art of preparation speak for themselves. No dish is altered with the addition of monosodium glutimate.

Owner Andy Chung believes that dining should be a sharing experience. "We like to educate people about the special qualities of our food. Szechuan and Mandarin cooking is a different experience than the usual Chinese restaurant. The food is prepared and served in a totaly different way."

The food is placed in separate dishes in the center of the table, diners can share different dishes throughout the meal. Courses are pre-cut which eliminates a lot of knife work. Szechuan and Mandarin cuisine is a sharing and joyful dining experience.

A good introduction to this type of Chinese food is Lin Garden's reasonable lunch specials. Served from 11:30 a.m. until 3:30 p.m.

"These give us a chance to show the variety of food and to educate new diners about this type of Chinese cuisine. You can order the non-spicy Mandarin dishes or the spicy Szechuan, prepared with fresh garlic and ginger. You can request your service people to ask for your food to be very spicy or mild." Chung said.

The famous Peking Duck is made in the 100 percent Chinese way. Served with chinese pancakes and scallion brushes, your service people will instruct how to eat this dish in the true Chinese tradition.

The restaurant offers Moo-She, Chinese pancakes, a fun thing to eat, that can be filled with a variety of chicken, pork, beef and vegetables, that you spoon on yourself.

Lin Garden offers General Gau's Chicken, a popular dish in the Boston area, which is chicken coated with water chestnuts, flour, and eggs, deep fried until crispy then dry cooked with hot ginger sauce.

A variety of fish dishes, Chinese style lobster and shrimp is served. A Vegetarian's Delight, which is a mixture of Chinese style spinach and vegetables is offered.

If you are dieting, the chef will prepare your food in a special way, without sugar, salt or corn starch, if requested.

Lin Garden offers a wide selection of excellent Chinese cuisine at reasonable prices, which are shared and cooked in a special way.

The upstairs dining room seats 120 and the downstairs function rooms can seat up to 120 guests for banquets or private parties. Live entertainment, with soft music selections is offered on the weekends. Reservations and take out orders are accepted. Ample parking is provided.

Lin Garden is open daily from 11:30 a.m. to 10 p.m. On Fridays and Saturdays they are open until 11 p.m.

The Kingston House's wine cellar is one of the finest north of Boston with over 450 selections, many of which are available by the glass from the restaurant's "cruvinet" wine dispenser.

With two lounges and seven distinctive dining rooms of varying sizes, the Kingston 1686 House is popular for private gatherings of all kinds from a cozy party of 10 or more in one of the intimate dining rooms to a beautiful wedding or banquet of 150 in one of the elegant banquet rooms.

Delightful for any occasion, the Kingston 1686 House takes on a special appeal at holiday time. What could be more appropriate than a traditional Thanksgiving feast in a 300-year-old setting, bright with pumpkins and bittersweet?

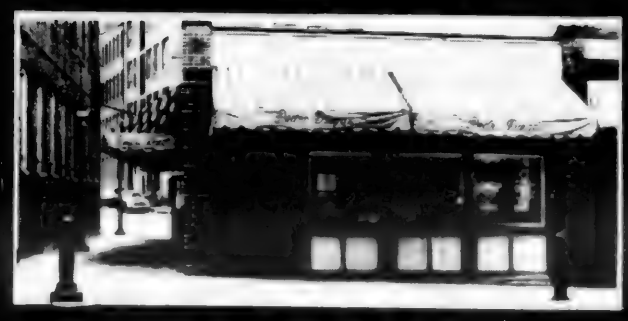

And as Christmas approaches, the antique beehive bake-oven in the lobby is transformed into an enchanting miniature snow-village. Candles and lights twinkle throughout, while handcrafted wreathes and ornaments bedeck every nook and cranny of the rambling building. The whole place is set aglow with the magic of Christmas, making an evening at the Kingston 1686 House one of the special events of the holiday season.

Promises

Promises To Keep is a very striking building, with a glass-roofed dining room, cathedral ceilings and window walls. Dinners are served on fine English china and flatware is imported from Holland. Full linen and fresh cut flowers finish a truly elegant table setting. Service is formal yet friendly from tuxedo-type attired waiters and waitresses.

The cuisine at Promises To Keep is American and continental. Baked haddock and broiled steaks are available, along with more adventurous entrees such as Veal a l'Oscar, Duck a l'Orange, Blackened Redfish and Beef Wellington. All items are skillfully prepared by owner/chef John Oudheusden, former owner/chef of the Andover Inn.

A delightful dining experience can be complemented with a selection from the pastry tray which is filled with tempting delicasies prepared by the full-time pastry chef.

Promises To Keep also boasts an elegant function facility that can accommodate parties from ten to 200. The beautiful chandaliered ceilings lend themselves to weddings, anniversary parties, business meetings or other functions.

The restaurant/function facility was the idea of Oudheusden and his business partner and general manager, David Kolifrath. Their idea was to bring a restaurant that could provide a truly elegant dining experience into the quiet and beauty of the southern New Hampshire countryside. Many of their peers considered the move risky, but 16 months later the two owners have proven their idea sound as the popular restaurant is a tremendous success. Obviously, the area was ready for a restaurant of this quality.

Diners should be aware that reservations are always suggested and that gentlemen's jackets are required during dinner hours. Luncheons are served Monday through Friday from 11:30 a.m. to 2:30 p.m., dinner from 5:30 p.m. daily, Sunday from 4 p.m. Most major credit cards are accepted.

New Dining Experience To Be Offered

North Andover will offer area residents a new dining experence when Jasmine opens in early November at Willow Tree Place on Route 114. According to Peter Wong, Jasmine's owner, the new restaurant will serve a variety of Szechuan and Mandarin specialties in an elegant, relaxed atomosphere.

"Jasmine will offer a fine dining experience, where guests will feel comfortable spending the evening," Wong says. "The restaurant is designed in muted pastel colors—gray, peach and blue—with soft lighting and comfortable seating.

"Our menu is limited to specialites of the chef and will feature table-side service for dishes such as Peking duck," he continues. We will also offer a selection of fine wines from France and the U.S." Jasmine's chef is Sang Fat Luk, a native of Hong Kong.

A resident of North Andover, Wong also owns the Peking Garden restaurants in Saugus and Lexington. "Many of our customers at Peking Garden are from North Andover and it seemed to me that this area could use a nice restaurant for people who appreciate fine dining. For me, Jasmine is a new concept, something different and challenging." Jasmine will also serve lunch, Wong says. "The Willows Industrial Park and Jefferson Office Park are both a minute's walk from Willow Tree Place and Jasmine will be a convenient spot for business entertaining and special employee luncheons."

The restaurant, which totals 3,500 square feet, will seat 75 with 10 additional seats in a small cocktail lounge. Wong says that, although some staff will be brought from the other restaurants when Jasmine opens, he will also be hiring locally.

Willow Tree Place is located next to McLay's Garden Center. The Colonial-style shopping center, which includes Security National Bank, the Century House Epicurean Shop and several other retail stores, was developed by American Development of Stoneham. exclusive marketing agent is Carlson Commercial of Salem, MA.

Silverware Designed In England

For centuries England was a world leader in manufacturing silver.

The British aritocracy encouraged the design and production of magnificent gold and silver tableware, flatware, lighting devices and objects of vertu.

Laws strictly controlled silversmiths and governed silver content with elaborate methods of identification under the direction of the Goldsmiths Company.

During the colonial period of our history, the austere life here and the demands of establishing homes in the wilderness discouraged the development of the American silversmith. For this reason, silver of our colonial period is extremely rare and valuable.

Not subject to the laws of the English Guild, American silver was generally indentified by the maker's name alone.

Much of the work of colonial silversmiths was devoted to supplying church silver. They closely followed traditional British design, except in New York where the Dutch influence was felt.

By 1830 the industrial revolution affected silversmiths, as well as other craftsmen.

At the time, the words, COIN, PURE COIN or WARRENTED, were used to indicate that the metal used was .900 pure— the same quality as coin from the United States mint.

As our country grew, American smiths became more dominant in the field of producing fine silver articles. In the 1850s our silver manufacturers began classifying silver with the identification, STERLING, signifying it as .925 silver and .075 other metals.

Thus most silver marked COIN, PURE COIN or WARRENTED was manufactured between 1830 and 1850. Although it varies slightly in silver content, generally it contains about .900 parts silver. It also frequently appears lighter in weight and more fragile than STERLING.
